Millions Of Dollars Added To Value Of Stocks Today

TRADING IS HEAVIEST IN FIVE MONTHS

Practically All Issues Go to New Highs for Year As Tickers Fall Behind

SMALL BUYERS BUSY

Orders to Buy Come From All Parts of Nation and Confusion Reigns

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)— Many millions of dollars in value were added to stocks today in one of the most impressive buying demonstrations of the year.

Actively swelled close to the three million share mark, as the stock market marched into the highest ground it has attained in nearly three months. Gains were general throughout the list, ranging from one to five points among the active stocks.

The advance was carried along by the rising tide of public interest in the market rather than by any important outside news development. Market observers believed the public at last had been coaxed into the proceedings with widely advertised stock "bargains."

Trading was at the most rapid pace of the year, exceeding slightly the 5,500,000 share turnover on February 10. Some confusion was caused in brokerage houses by the sudden swelling of turnover as many of them had been geared for the million share sessions of early this summer.

The main force of today's buying movement was centered on the first four hours of trading, the final hour being given over to digestion of the day's gains. Activity dwindled toward the close but prices held firmly around their best levels of the day.

Among the better gains at the peak of the buying movement were Allied Chemical, 56 5-8, up 4 1-8; Atchafalca 33 3-8, up 4 1-8; American Can 39 7-8, up 4 1-8; DuPont 33 3-4, up 3 5-8; and United States Steel, 28 1-2, up 1 1-8. These levels were shaded somewhat near the close.

Other markets moved upward with stocks, bonds, especially the United States government issues, reaching new highs for the year. Wheat scored its third successive rise, while cotton moved ahead moderately.

About the only important news item overhanging the market was the "revolver" meeting of the Bethlehem Steel corporation scheduled for after the close of the market at which the preferred dividend was to come up for action. The stock held steady around 23 3-4.

Just a Slip But Word Is Substitute

WYANDOTTE, Mich., July 28.—(UP)—City council was meeting.

"It shall be unlawful for any child under the age of 12 years to engage as a boot-legger after 10 o'clock at night," droned Lawrence J. Lacourse, reading the last of the new juvenile code.

Members awoke with startled looks.

Hurried conferences.

"There must be an error in the last item," one member said. There was—the record was changed to read "bootblack."

PLOT TO START RUNS ON BANKS IS UNCOVERED

Police and Federal Agents Hunt for Mysterious Leader in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 28.—(UP)—Federal agents and police today hunted a mysterious individual described as George Rowland whom they charge with being an agent in a widespread campaign by persons of Communist beliefs to wreck banks by starting runs among panicky depositors.

The sensational charges were met with direct denial by William Z. Foster, Communist party candidate for president, that such an individual as Rowland exists. Foster denounced the accusations of a plot as "deliberate fabrications."

Regardless of Rowland's existence, reports were in the hands of government investigators showing banks in many cities victims of runs apparently started by telephone "whispering" campaigns.

Bankers were inclined to agree with federal agents that a concerted drive had been made.

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the large First National bank of Chicago, was positive an organized campaign had caused recent runs on his and other large Chicago institutions.

"I have information," he said, "from virtually every large bank in the nation indicating a plot to wreck banks by unfounded rumors. Anonymous telephone calls

REQUIEM MASS SAID FOR JOS. SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(UP)—A requiem mass, said without elaborate ceremony or accompaniment, by the Very Rev. Zachary J. Maher, provincial head of the Society of Jesus in California and Arizona marked the last rites today for Father Joseph A. Sullivan, founder and former president of Loyola University, Los Angeles.

Many friends and prominent Catholic churchmen attended the services. Bishops Robert J. Armstrong, Sacramento, and Thomas K. Gorman, Reno; Rev. William I. Loneragan, president of the University of San Francisco; Rev. James K. Lyons, president of the University of Santa Clara; and the Rev. Thomas K. Burke, Paulist superior of California, were in the sanctuary. Interment will be at Santa Clara.

GARBO NOT PRESENT WHEN BREMEN SAILS

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—Roaring flames and a scare among some 5000 fans who thronged the piers to get a look at Greta Garbo provided an exciting "bon voyage" early today for Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago.

Greta was not present when the Bremen sailed, the dapper James J. Walker, mayor of New York, had been overlooked by the movie-struck fans when he left the ship, and Cermak probably missed the show because the Bremen pulled out just before the fire.

HITLER PLEADS FOR UNITY IN BERLIN SPEECH

Addresses 160,000 Persons and Urges Dramatically for United Germany

BERLIN, July 28.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler, dapper new citizen of Germany, in a dramatic plea for a united Germany shouted from the Kaiser's old box at Gruenewald stadium, brought the Nazi election campaign to Berlin while bands played, torches flared, and storm troops paraded in a drizzling rain.

Hitler spoke last night to a wildly enthusiastic crowd of 160,000, urging them to drive warring parties from Germany "forever."

There were 70,000 in the immense stadium grandstands, an equal number at the adjacent race track and 20,000 brown shirt storm troops mingled with the Nazi "white shirt" recruits. Loud speakers carried Hitler's message to all in the great crowd.

"Our people must raise themselves in unity, or our national life will die for lack of the will to live," Hitler shouted. "We must rise above the conception of proletarians, employers, landlords, tenants, Catholics and Protestants."

"Our movement today is one of peasants, clerks, workmen, all operating, brains and brawn pulling together. We shall forge them together."

Hitler's dramatic appearance in the final stage of the election campaign eclipsed a sensational declaration by Otto Braun, ousted Prussian premier, that civil war was avoided last week when the Von Papen cabinet seized control of Prussia "only by the cool head and exemplary discipline of the Republican parties."

CALIFORNIA BONUS MAN SHOT IN FOOT

WILMINGTON, Del., July 28.—(UP)—James A. Pitts, 23, Englewood, Calif., was shot in the foot last night by a policeman of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, in the first clash here between police and members of the bonus expeditionary force.

The shooting occurred when Daniel Morgan, a member of the railroad police, ordered 30 men, who were riding a freight through the Landenberg junction off the train.

PRISONER TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—Warden Court Smith today planned to ask the Sacramento county district attorney's office for a murder complaint against Charles Marratto, 38, incorrigible prisoner transferred here from San Quentin prison.

The complaint will be asked as the result of the death of Joseph Summers, 39, another convict, who was fatally stabbed two weeks ago. Marratto has been unable to explain bloodstains on his clothing, although he repeatedly denied any knowledge of Summers' assault.

BOLIVIA-PARAGUAY WAR CLOUDS LOOM

ASUNCION, Paraguay, July 28.—(UP)—The threat of immediate warfare between Paraguay and Bolivia over the disputed Gran Chaco territory was admitted officially in a foreign office statement today.

The statement said the government learned that heavy Bolivian troop concentrations were made in the Chaco with the obvious intention to attack Paraguayan positions, and added:

"In view thereof, the Paraguayan government is taking all necessary measures to defend its sovereignty at all costs."

Atlantic City Chosen For Shrine Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(UP)—The 1933 convention of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will be held in Atlantic City July 11-13, delegates to the present conference voted today.

Shrine headquarters earlier had reported erroneously that Atlanta, Ga., was selected as the site.

SAN JOSE, July 28.—(UP)—A pretty blonde girl, who admitted she was in love with him, today substantiated the confession of George D. Templeton Jr., 20 year old University of California student, that he killed his aunt and critically wounded his uncle.

Miss Claire Burnette, 23, told Sheriff William Emig the youth had planned to tell officers that he was at her apartment in Oakland the night his aunt, Mrs. Lillian Babcock, Manila society matron, was slashed to death with a butcher knife.

PRINTS OF WOMAN'S FOOT DISCOVERED

HUNTINGTON LAKE, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—Discovery of a woman's footprints and ashes of a campfire today spurred on forest rangers who sought Mrs. E. W. Newell of Fresno in the rugged mountains north of here.

Mrs. Newell disappeared Monday while hiking with her son and other children from here to Nellie Lake in the high Sierras.

Searchers, who have combed the territory since Mrs. Newell was reported missing, were joined last night by her husband, who learned of her disappearance while attending the National Shrine convention in San Francisco.

We Have Turned the Corner

(An Editorial)

News is coming from all sections of the nation of returning business and probable prosperity. The increase of some commodity prices; the payment by the steel company of its dividend; the soaring prices on the New York Stock Exchange; the loosening of money on Federal and state employment enterprises, all are causing a tremendous strengthening of confidence throughout the nation that bodes good for all people.

The enactment of the Home Loan bank bill has assured hundreds of thousands of home owners that they will be taken care of; that they will not lose their homes. It means an added value to property.

It means undoubtedly building activity, which means business for contractors, carpenters, brick masons, lathers, plasterers, and all the building trades. This will find its ramifications in increased values in real estate and movement of property. It means the releasing of money through the thawing out of "frozen" credits. It is the assurance, in our judgment, that bank failures are going to be extremely few, and that the people are assured that they can depend upon their financial institutions.

Through the amendment to the Federal Reserve act, the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and now this Home Loan bank measure, our financial institutions are so thoroughly protected by government backing that depositors and borrowers can be confident that their money is secure, and that their protection will be guarded.

Some critics urge that considerable of this, and particularly the uniting on all these things at once, has considerable of political significance. That some men are interested from a political motive in their activity to help along at this time is undoubtedly true. But after all, there are mixed motives with all men, and what we are mostly interested in are the facts of what is being done, and the facts are that business has very distinctly taken an upward trend. And we believe that it is the time for all of us to get in and boost, for it can and will be put over.

INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIC GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Forerunner to Games Opens With President Urging Clean Sport

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—The International Olympic committee formally opened its sessions here today as a forerunner to the Olympic games, when its members were greeted by the city hall by Mayor John C. Porter.

Gov. James Rolph Jr., of California was the only person who took part in the short ceremony who was not a member of the international committee.

Count Henri De Baillet-Latour of Belgium, speaking perfect English, pointed out the high ideals of sportsmanship engendered by the Olympic games, in response to Mayor Porter's brief greeting.

"Throughout these quadrennial events," said Count Baillet-Latour, "it is our aim to stimulate, on the part of the youth of all lands, a love for clean sport, and to provide an opportunity for the best products of each nation to compete, on a basis of equality, with the best of other lands."

"However great is the importance attached to the Olympic games themselves, there is another far greater object that we must bear in mind. The practice of sport must be carried on by everyone and even when the athletes are no longer young enough to compete in championship events."

Count Baillet-Latour declared as mercenary, the influences which prompt young athletes to sell their

WALTHER LEAGUE'S BUDGET INCREASED

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—The Walther League of the Lutheran church faced a new year with an increased budget today following passage of a finance resolution at its convention here.

The budget was increased from $25,150 to $30,150 so that the presidents' conference, convention expenses and departmental promotion work could be taken care of.

Another finance resolution urged societies, city locals, zones and districts to cooperate with the international executive board in eliminating a $10,000 deficit incurred by the Lutheran Radio Hour and in minor developments of league finances.

AMELIA IS FORCED DOWN DURING TRIP

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—After a forced landing enroute from Salt Lake City which delayed her arrival here, Amelia Earhart Putnam, trans-Atlantic aviatrice, was to fly in a navy airplane today to San Diego for participation in an aerial review.

She will return to Los Angeles Friday and receive a distinguished flying cross from Vice President Charles Curtis during dedication ceremonies for the new Los Angeles state building.

Failure of the fuel pressure system on her plane caused her forced landing and anxiety when she failed to arrive here on schedule.

SPECIAL OFFICERS TO GUARD CURTIS

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 28.—(UP)—Featuring a demonstration against Vice President Charles H. Curtis when he arrives here tonight on route to the Olympic Games, 66 special railroad officers have been ordered to surround his car.

I. W. W. and other "wobbly" groups are quite strong in Las Vegas and Boulder City, and unusual news has been expressed over Curtis' short stop here.

Curtis will not leave the train nor speak, although he is expected to shake hands with everyone within reaching distance of the rear platform.

Meeting To Be Held In S. A. Tonight

Plans for United Front to Be Formulated at Gathering of Trustees

PLANS FOR presenting a united front by the various municipalities in the county to the board of supervisors in making demand for a just apportionment of gas tax funds to incorporated territories, will be formulated at a special meeting of city trustees and city officials and other representatives of cities in the county to be held this evening at 7 o'clock at the Santa Ana council chamber, inquiries at the city hall revealed today.

Further inquiries disclosed that tonight's meeting is the outcome of a conference held a few days ago in Fullerton, attended by councilmen and city officials from Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia, Brea and La Habra, at which the distribution of the gas tax was discussed. At that time the desirability of bringing about a united action of the affected communities was pointed out, and to that end another meeting was suggested.

At tonight's meeting a resolution, asking that the cities be given 32 1-2 per cent of the total amount the county receives from the state, will be presented for adoption. Following this action, it was learned, it is proposed to present this resolution to the supervisors at their regular meeting set for August 2.

It also was hinted that coupled with these representations there will be a request that the supervisors change the existing policy governing the distribution of the gas tax so as to make revision permanent in favor of the municipalities.

MOVE TO HELP JOBLESS OVER STATE STARTED

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—A gigantic plan to end unemployment throughout California was in the process of organization today.

Advanced first by the California State Chamber of Commerce, the proposal deals with staggering hours and shortening days of work to provide every person in need of it at least part time employment.

Los Angeles organized a committee of seven prominent business men and financiers today to make the plan operative in Southern California industry, cooperating with a similar move launched in San Francisco Tuesday and in conjunction with the state chamber.

17 MINERS TRAPPED IN MINE IN INDIANA

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 28.—(UP)—Seventeen night shift miners were trapped in the Dixie Bee coal mine near here today when more than 1000 union pickets converged on the shaft.

Nearly 100 day shift workers were turned back by the pickets. Sheriff Joe Dreney and 10 deputies hastened toward the mine when a telephone message to the county building revealed the captive miners' plight.

VON GRONAU WILL CONTINUE FLIGHT

MONTREAL, July 28.—(UP)—Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, German flier, who has just completed his third crossing of the Atlantic, planned to leave Montreal for Ottawa by plane today to be received by officials of the Canadian government.

Captain von Gronau, who is accompanied by three companions, intends to fly over the Great Lakes between Ottawa and Chicago, and later hopes to proceed to the Pacific coast.

GANGSTER IS SLAIN IN ST. PAUL BATTLE

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 28.—(UP)—Police made a rapid check of Bertillon records today to determine definitely whether Able Loeb, slain in a gang war which took three victims in a week, was in reality Able Wagner, New York gangster once hunted in connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnapping.

Loeb was slain here Monday night in a daring gang attack at a busy street intersection. A companion, Al Gordon, was fatally wounded at the same time. Five days previous Harry (Gorilla Kid) Davis, Loeb's bodyguard, was shot to death not far from here.

services to the highest bidder, and thus professionalize themselves.

"The wholesome love of play as a recreation is displaced by an inordinate desire for monetary gain through a series of victories which set an undue premium upon winning," he said. "This is a vicious influence because of the pernicious cycle which it engenders and to which it inevitably leads."

The speaker then noted the rapid growth of amateur sport in Europe and America. Development of an amateur viewpoint, he said, in the minds of the younger generation is a force to be reckoned with, and will put a stop to disloyal practices adopted by those who must win at all costs.

"Continuation of amateur athletics through competition with or against professionals is a problem which the international federation is now attempting to solve, Count Bulet-Latour said.

Recognized amateurs now lose their simon-pure status by doing so, he pointed out.

"Why not simplify the whole matter by doing away with compulsory disqualification of an amateur simply because he may have competed against a professional, regardless of past or present practices?"

He closed with a plea for more liberal interpretation of amateur standing to "assure for their lifetime the physical well-being of those who engage in competitive sports exclusively for the love of the game."

tion with other committees throughout the state.

The Los Angeles committee was selected by Victor H. Rossett, and John C. Austin, regional chairman of President Hoover's organization for unemployment relief. Its selection followed a secret meeting of bankers, businessmen and financial leaders at which the plan was thoroughly discussed and determined to be practical.

The committee consists of: Russell H. Ballard, president of Southern California Edison company; James G. Bullock, president of Bullocks Department store; Shannon Crandall, president of the California Hardware company; Victor H. Rossett, president of the Farmers and Merchants National bank; John C. Austin, former president of the chamber of commerce; L. P. St. Clair, president of the Union Oil company of California, and Adolph Schleicher, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Briefly, the plan is to establish a ratio between the work to be done and the number of workers there are to do it. By cutting down the working hours of some and even the working days of the week, the various committees hope to furnish every one who really needs it with at least part time work.

In carrying out their plans, California financial leaders will have the entire resources of the 12th federal reserve district at their command, they said.

CHLORINE GAS LINE BREAKS; MAN OVERCOME

The life of William H. Patrick, of 135 South Cypress street, Orange, was endangered at 2:40 o'clock this morning when a chlorine gas line at the Santiago Orange Growers' association packing plant broke. A woman employee of the association was made slightly ill by the gas.

Following emergency treatment at the packing plant Patrick was removed to his home.

The inhaler squad of the Santa Ana fire department was called to the Patrick home at 1:15 o'clock. The squad members, Charles H. Roemer and E. Gates devoted their efforts to keeping the man conscious, it being feared that if Patrick lapsed into unconsciousness, he would succumb to the effects of the gas.

Belief was expressed this afternoon that Patrick would recover.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

GARNER

Republicans have received a few private but not kick-backs on their anti-Garnier campaign. It will be soft-pedaled hereafter.

The idea went great in the East, but was not so good in the middle West. Republicans out there complained it would lose votes in that section.

Another angle was that the concentration of fire on the Vice-President's opponent led the head of the ticket off too lightly.

The Garner attacks will therefore be localized from now on and held within closer bounds than at first contemplated.

ACCEPTANCE

It has just leaked out that Franklin Roosevelt had two manuscripts before him when he made his acceptance speech at Chicago.

He took parts of one and parts of the second, leaving out a lot of both.

That is why the speech was not given out in advance. He did not know how much he was going to say.

REPUBLICANS

The depression has hit the Republican party on the inside harder than the Democrats. No chance of an uplift in that line is in sight. The National Republican publicity bureau employs eight men. It employed twenty-nine at this time in 1923. It spent nearly $2,000,000 for publicity four years ago. This year it will spend $250,000. Spot news and radio broadcasting are scheduled at present to take the money.

President Hoover is largely running his own campaign.

The man who was supposed to know nothing about politics is working with a few select advisors whose advice he does not always follow. Most influential is Postmaster General Brown. Behind the scenes he is the real chairman of the Republican National Committee.

In secondary advisory capacities are Secretary of Treasury Mills, Everett Sanders, Mark Sullivan and Walter Newton.

Mabel Walker Willebrandt is understood to have offered her services for use in California. The inner board of strategy decided not to use her. This is going to be a different kind of campaign this year. Her Joan of Arc appeal to ministers to use their pulpits in '28 has somewhat impaired her supporting power now.

That was why she denied that she had decided to support the President.

Two old line Republican politicians turned down offers as eastern managers for the Republican campaign—Charles D. Hilles and J. Henry Roraback. The heart of Hilles is still with Coolidge. Roraback pleaded privately that his business interests in Connecticut required his presence.

DEMOCRATS
Roosevelt has an inner coterie somewhat like the Hoover crowd but makes his own decisions. The ace inside counsellor of the Democratic nominee is Col. House, the Texan who played Warwick to Wilson. Also striding along with the inside circle are some newcomers to high Democratic standing—his personal advisor Louis McH. Howe and Henry Morgenthau, junior. The elder Morgenthau, treasurer for the Wilson campaign, is closely consulted. He knows where the necessary funds will come from.

THANKS
President Hoover's original message of thanks to the Republican convention never reached that body. It went into the wastebasket.

Presidential Secretary Lawrence Richey put it there. He did not like the way it was worded and asked the president to send another.

The President did. But he gave it out at the White House that time. Richey did not have a chance to see it.

BRITISH BUYING
English and Scotch interests have lately been doing some quiet but very heavy buying of certain American securities.

The most favored issues have been General Motors Preferred, Hershey Chocolate Preferred, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Preferred, General Foods and Standard Brands.

Orders have been placed in such large volume that they have not passed through stock exchange machinery. Brokers have been trying to fill the orders at current prices on the side with the cooperation of the companies involved. Orders of such magnitude thrown on the public market would have had a disrupting effect.

A single British order for one of the stocks named amounted to 100,000 shares.

Wall Streeters regard this development as extremely encouraging. British financial interests are widely credited with having a better perspective of our future prospects than have our own. Some of the recent buoyancy in stock market prices is traceable to the influence of this factor.

STOCK MARKET
Majority opinion among well informed financial men agrees that the latest rise in stock prices is healthy. The gains have been slow, sustained and unspectacular.

While general business conditions give no justification for jauntiness, it is pointed out that stock prices have been much further deflated than any other kind of prices and that they should logically be the first to point the way up.

One large operator of mature experience who has been bearish for seven years has just changed to the other side of the fence.

The only thing worrying wise opinion is that the trading public will get too excited and bring about a sky-rocket movement. Excessive optimism would bring a sharp reaction.

Quite a few traders are still selling short from force of habit. An officer of a stock exchange house was asked why. He said: "Don't ask me. Ask Dr. Freud." He is not necessarily right.

STEEL
Steel interests are squawking to the skies about what the Ottawa Conference may do to them.

U. S. Steel is the only American member of the industry with a Canadian plant. Financial conditions give no encouragement to the idea that other companies might buck Imperial tariffs by opening plants there also.

from injuries suffered when a bomber took hit him during the earlier battle.

Troops Called Out
Shortly after 3 p. m. Secretary of War Hurley ordered General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the army, to surround and clear the area of disorder. It lies within a short distance of the United States capital and is bounded on one side by Pennsylvania avenue.

Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, police superintendent, began the encircling movement as word was received that he would soon have military reinforcements.

Policemen were placed at alley entrances to the partly demolished blocks of buildings to prevent another rush such as that which had earlier provided veterans with bricks.

One of the two men wounded by police gunfire was said to have been merely a passerby. His name is James Scott.

An eye-witness account of the shooting was obtained by the United Press from Roscoe W. Long of Danville, Ill., a member of the bonus army who served in the 29th division during the World war.

"I was with the trench mortars in the war so I didn't mind the shooting a bit," Long said. "Here's how it happened."

"Some of our boys were going up stairs in the old building that used to be an auto salesmen. They had been living there and the evacuation wasn't supposed to apply to that building for the present."

"A cop stepped out at the top of the stairs."

Policeman Fires
"One of the boys struck at the cop and the cop hit him with his stick, knocking him back about five feet. Then the cop drew his gun and shot this boy twice, right in the guts."

The policeman was presumed to be Private George W. Schnaut, who reported to Glassford that he had fired the first shots.

"Then another cop barged in," Long continued. "He pulled his gun too but I hit him in the arm. The gun fired into the air and then dropped to the floor."

"About this time a lot of others came in and we beat it."

The plea from the district commissioners to the war department came through President Hoover. The commissioners informed Mr. Hoover they were unable to maintain law and order in the capital.

The shooting occurred at the entrance of one of the buildings from which treasury agents earlier in the day had evicted about 100 veterans.

An attempt was made to rush the entrance. The policeman guarding the doorway fired the shots.

Another policeman came up from behind and was believed to have joined in the firing.

One man, believed to have been a veteran, was carried away, apparently wounded.

More police rushed in and surrounded the veterans who stood, their hands in the air.

Many Arrested
There was considerable confusion. Many were arrested. The police augmented their guard around the buildings and began driving back the crowd.

As the veterans were removed in patrol wagons it was impossible to determine immediately whether they were wounded or simply under arrest. One of the men was seen to clutch his throat as he entered the patrol wagon.

Two veterans were received at Casualty hospital. One had been shot in the neck and one in the chest.

One version of the shooting was that a policeman was cornered by veterans on the second floor of the building. Attacked by the invaders, the policeman, according to this version, was forced to shoot his way out to the street.

Superintendent of Police Pelham D. Glassford was present when the shooting occurred.

Several veterans rushed police lines today behind government property which treasury agents had repossessed this morning, seized an ammunition dump of bricks from demolished buildings and began a wall barrage.

Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, chief of police, sent a call for 100 more police.

Disturbers were carried off so fast in police patrols that it was impossible to tell how many arrests were made before the brick battle ended. It lasted about 10 minutes.

Two police were so severely hurt they had to go to a hospital. Several others were cut and bleeding as were a number of the marchers.

Leader Jailed
Bernard McCord, Chicago, was arrested as leader of the charge of the bonusers. He was charged with inciting a riot. He was out and bleeding when arrested. McCord was said to be a member of John Pace's "left wing" group. Pace himself is in jail awaiting trial as a result of previous demonstrations.

Police continued to hold the "repossessed" former national guard armory from which bonus veterans were ejected earlier.

A general mobilization of police was ordered at the riot scene.

Hundreds of bonus marchers were converging on the point of the disorder. Many had arrived when the surprise rush against comparatively weak police lines in the rear of the disputed area put the bonus men in possession of the bricks.

An effort was made to raise the Anacostia drawbridge to prevent Commander George R. Thompson's 5000 men living on the Anacostia flats from joining the melee. Too many men already had reached importer, was seriously stabbed in the Los Altos home where they were visiting, the girl said Templeton visited her and declared: "You are to be my alibi. I've told everyone I was in your apartment Tuesday night while I was in Los Altos. You've got to stand by me."

Before the scholarly "model student" could test the love of his attractive friend, however, he had calmly confessed to Sheriff Emig that he staged the brutal crime in the hope his mother, who is Babcock's sister, might collect his victim's insurance.

Mise Burnette was located at her apartment last night and questioned. She declared she was a recent graduate of Vassar college. She said her father was a retired New York banker.

Unmoved by the murder charge which authorities expected to file against him today, the popular university student, calmly met his distraught parents in the jail here. He alone appeared at ease during the short meeting.

His father, Major George D. Templeton, retired army officer and former partner in the firm Babcock and Templeton, said his son's defense probably would be based on a plea of mental aberration.

"He had been morose and moody for years, and he was particularly bitter over our financial reverses which compelled him to leave the university in his junior year last fall," the father said.

In his confession, the youth blamed his uncle for his father's reverses. He told Sheriff Emig that by killing Babcock he had hoped to place his father in control of Babcock's extensive importing business, thereby enabling the youth to return to school. Young Templeton had been elected editor of the University of California year book for next year.

VET SKILLED BY POLICEMAN IN WASHINGTON

from injuries suffered when a bomber took hit him during the earlier battle.

Troops Called Out
Shortly after 3 p. m. Secretary of War Hurley ordered General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the army, to surround and clear the area of disorder. It lies within a short distance of the United States capital and is bounded on one side by Pennsylvania avenue.

Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, police superintendent, began the encircling movement as word was received that he would soon have military reinforcements.

Policemen were placed at alley entrances to the partly demolished blocks of buildings to prevent another rush such as that which had earlier provided veterans with bricks.

One of the two men wounded by police gunfire was said to have been merely a passerby. His name is James Scott.

An eye-witness account of the shooting was obtained by the United Press from Roscoe W. Long of Danville, Ill., a member of the bonus army who served in the 29th division during the World war.

"I was with the trench mortars in the war so I didn't mind the shooting a bit," Long said. "Here's how it happened."

"Some of our boys were going up stairs in the old building that used to be an auto salesmen. They had been living there and the evacuation wasn't supposed to apply to that building for the present."

"A cop stepped out at the top of the stairs."

Policeman Fires
"One of the boys struck at the cop and the cop hit him with his stick, knocking him back about five feet. Then the cop drew his gun and shot this boy twice, right in the guts."

The policeman was presumed to be Private George W. Schnaut, who reported to Glassford that he had fired the first shots.

"Then another cop barged in," Long continued. "He pulled his gun too but I hit him in the arm. The gun fired into the air and then dropped to the floor."

"About this time a lot of others came in and we beat it."

The plea from the district commissioners to the war department came through President Hoover. The commissioners informed Mr. Hoover they were unable to maintain law and order in the capital.

The shooting occurred at the entrance of one of the buildings from which treasury agents earlier in the day had evicted about 100 veterans.

An attempt was made to rush the entrance. The policeman guarding the doorway fired the shots.

Another policeman came up from behind and was believed to have joined in the firing.

One man, believed to have been a veteran, was carried away, apparently wounded.

More police rushed in and surrounded the veterans who stood, their hands in the air.

Many Arrested
There was considerable confusion. Many were arrested. The police augmented their guard around the buildings and began driving back the crowd.

As the veterans were removed in patrol wagons it was impossible to determine immediately whether they were wounded or simply under arrest. One of the men was seen to clutch his throat as he entered the patrol wagon.

Two veterans were received at Casualty hospital. One had been shot in the neck and one in the chest.

One version of the shooting was that a policeman was cornered by veterans on the second floor of the building. Attacked by the invaders, the policeman, according to this version, was forced to shoot his way out to the street.

Superintendent of Police Pelham D. Glassford was present when the shooting occurred.

Several veterans rushed police lines today behind government property which treasury agents had repossessed this morning, seized an ammunition dump of bricks from demolished buildings and began a wall barrage.

Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, chief of police, sent a call for 100 more police.

Disturbers were carried off so fast in police patrols that it was impossible to tell how many arrests were made before the brick battle ended. It lasted about 10 minutes.

Two police were so severely hurt they had to go to a hospital. Several others were cut and bleeding as were a number of the marchers.

Leader Jailed
Bernard McCord, Chicago, was arrested as leader of the charge of the bonusers. He was charged with inciting a riot. He was out and bleeding when arrested. McCord was said to be a member of John Pace's "left wing" group. Pace himself is in jail awaiting trial as a result of previous demonstrations.

Police continued to hold the "repossessed" former national guard armory from which bonus veterans were ejected earlier.

A general mobilization of police was ordered at the riot scene.

Hundreds of bonus marchers were converging on the point of the disorder. Many had arrived when the surprise rush against comparatively weak police lines in the rear of the disputed area put the bonus men in possession of the bricks.

An effort was made to raise the Anacostia drawbridge to prevent Commander George R. Thompson's 5000 men living on the Anacostia flats from joining the melee. Too many men already had reached

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 28. (To the Editor of The Register.) We have a great bunch out here prowling around. It's the National Editorial Association, composed of editors in smaller towns and weekly publications. They are just eating their way around the country, having a good time and getting a lot of pleasure out of it, and giving everyone that meets 'em a closeup of just about as representative a gang of Americans as would be possible to band together, intelligent, well read and no nation: advertising controls their pages. They are not conceited enough to think they "mold public opinion." They just go along serving their community with the most indispensable article that it has. And yet the real power is greater than all your metropolitan dailies combined. Any person that don't read at least one well-written country newspaper is not truly informed.

the bridge and it was impossible to raise it.

Thompson's army began moving on Washington about noon. It was a straggling, apparently purposeless march. Authorities were uneasy, however. Several contingents hurried from Camp Marks at Anacostia aboard motor trucks.

A good many men remained at Camp Marks. The men seemed to be in an ugly mood. Bonus army authorities appeared to be doing what they could to avert a serious situation. Commander Walter Waters had counseled the Pennsylvania avenue squatters to leave the proscribed buildings without disorder and most of them followed his advice.

Disarm Veterans
Bonus "M. P.'s" were disarming their own men at Camp Marks. The seized "arms" were clubs. The exodus from Camp Marks to Washington was diminishing rapidly in volume toward 1 p. m. But many men already had crossed the bridge for the trouble scene.

The brick fight lasted 10 minutes.

One policeman was sent to the hospital.

A few minutes before the battle of bricks police announced nothing more would happen until 1:45 p. m., explaining that police had to eat lunch like anyone else and

A WORD OF COMFORT

You manage pretty well during the daytime amid the pressure of responsibilities and duties. The bustle and din of the active world blur the intensity of your poignant grief. But at evening time, when your loneliness and your heartache lay hold upon you and the anguish seems too great to endure.

At length you turn to God because no one else can help. From somewhere comes the balm which soothes your soul and you guess that it comes from Him. A sense of quiet and of refreshment rests upon you and your courage is restored.

OBSTRUCTION IS DISCOVERED BY TRAIN CREW

Santa Fe special agents and Orange police officers today were investigating an unsuccessful attempt to wreck a Santa Fe train at Orange between 7 and 8 o'clock last night.

A bolt 12 inches long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter had been placed in a "frog" on the main line track just back of the M. O. D. packing house near Almond avenue.

Discovery of the bolt was made by a crew of a switch engine. The engine wheels passed over the bolt and according to Conductor Henry McGregor, of Santa Ana, the train would have been derailed had it been moving at anything but a slow rate of speed.

Trainmen said the position of the bolt on the rail indicated it had been placed there by someone with knowledge of train wrecking.

Officers Homer Davis and James Johnson investigated the case for the Orange department.

Three Mexican boys were arrested two years ago after they had placed a large rock on the tracks near Orange.

Police Act As Nurse For Sick Baby

"Versatility" is the working slogan of the Santa Ana police department, it was revealed today with the filing of a report that two officers last night had responded to a call requiring the services of a nurse to take charge of a 17-month old sick child which had been left alone in an apartment at 907 Brown street while the parents had gone to a beach party.

The wallings of the child attracted the neighbors, who called the police. Efforts on the part of the officers to get in touch with the county health or welfare departments were of no avail as were their attempts to locate the parents. After calling Dr. Huffman, the police finally secured the services of a woman in the neighborhood who promised to take care of the sick child until the parents returned.

JUDGES URGE COLOR CHANGE OFFICERS' CARS

Members of the Justices of Peace and City Judges association of Orange county last night voted to recommend to the State Motor Vehicle department that the color of traffic officers' cars be changed from white to a more common color.

This action was taken at the bi-monthly meeting held in the clubhouse at Doheny Park, the association members being guests of the Doheny company.

Another recommendation to be made to the Motor Vehicle Department will be the elimination, in Orange county at least, of the three-lane traffic highway, which the officials held was dangerous.

Discussion brought out the fact that a certain element among automobile drivers are deliberate law breakers and play hide and seek with officers. This is made possible because the violator can "spot" the white car and avoid arrest. The consensus of the meeting was that a majority of traffic accidents is caused by this law breaking element. It was the belief of the association that these law breakers would not be so flagrant if officials' cars were a color not so easily distinguished.

Among the guests at the meeting last night were Father DePaul of St. Vincent's college, Superior Judges G. K. Scoville, H. G. Ames and James L. Allen, and Captain, Henry Meehan of the state highway patrol.

Judge John Landell, of San Juan Capistrano, presided, with Justice Kenneth Morrison, of Santa Ana, as secretary. The next meeting will be held in Fullerton in September.

CANDIDATES AT MORNING CLUB SESSION TODAY

Good fellowship featured the doings of the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club held this morning at Ketter's cafe, to which the various candidates for public office had been invited as special guests.

President Dave G. Wettlin, well known Santa Ana attorney and himself a candidate for the state senate, presided over the meeting with Professor D. Clanton, director of the Santa Ana Municipal band, in charge of the program.

Shappy songs, quick sallies and witty repartee, featured the meeting, during which the various candidates were called upon to make brief talks on the subject of their respective platforms.

Echoes of the recent conventions held in Chicago were the campaign songs that were sung by impromptu quartets made up of staunch Republicans and loyal Democrats. "Happy Days Are Here Again" brought forth applause from the Roosevelt supporters. The Hoover crowd, equally enthusiastic came back with "Singing in the Rain."

Professor Clanton kept those present sparkling with effervescent good nature. His witty references to the ambitions of the aspirants to public office, drew much good-natured chaff from the audiences. Contributing to the general jollification was the unexpected appearance of Jerry Hall, who made brief speech on behalf of Elmer F. Zilch, of national fame. Hall explained that his candidate, sensing the desires of the great American people, stood for prohibition, free silver and gold, and a bonus for everybody.

Among the candidates who attended the meeting were Superior Judge James L. Allen, Attorney Franklin G. West, District Attorney Sam L. Collins, William C. Jerome, John Knox, Attorney B. Z. McKinney, W. B. Martin, J. C. Metzgar, Robert Speed, Wilbur K. Getty, Charles Van Wyk, Stanley Goode, B. T. Dowden, Mrs. Carl Mock, State Senator Nels Edwards, James B. Utt, Lovell L. King, Frank Harwood and Dave G. Wettlin.

ORANGE RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Sarah J. Bradley, 90, passed away at her home at 428 North Lemon street last night. The body will be sent by the C. W. Coffey Funeral parlors to Syracuse, Kan., for burial.

Mrs. Bradley had lived in Orange for the past 12 years. She had been a resident of California for 19 years.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Hattie Doughty, of Los Angeles, and Miss Mayne Bradley, of Orange, and one son, Charley Bradley, of Kendall, Kan.

Mrs. Bradley was a member of the W. C. T. U. and of the Methodist church.

About nine per cent of the forest fires are due to railroads, it is said.

ADVISOR TELLS REMEDY FOR BROWN PATCH

One of the most troublesome diseases of lawns is brown patch, a fungus disease which makes its appearance in the summer, according to Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, representing the University of California in Orange county.

The application of one ounce of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate) to each 1000 square feet of lawn is recommended by the farm advisor. The bichloride may be dissolved in water before being applied, or mixed with some fine soil and evenly distributed. Immediately after the application is made, the lawn should be well watered. Brown patch attacks chiefly bent grass and to a less extent the fescues.

As a means of reducing the damage due to the disease, the United States Department of Agriculture advises seeding lawns with Kentucky Blue Grass, or if the soil and climatic conditions are not favorable, seed with a mixture of nine parts of Blue Grass, nine parts of Chewings fescue, and two parts of red top.

This disease in lawns spreads mostly in damp, moist weather. Watering the lawn in the morning checks the spread and creates a less favorable condition for the disease.

Here's Motorist Who Intends To Keep Eyes Open

The next time W. E. Evans, operator of a live bait boat at San Clemente, does any night driving, he intends to keep awake.

He fell asleep while returning to San Clemente from San Juan Capistrano, his machine jumping over a ditch and landing on the Santa Fe right-of-way.

Pretty soon a Santa Fe train came along and made splinters of the machine.

It happened that Evans was thrown out of the car when it went over the ditch. He landed under a culvert with a few scratches.

OFFICERS RETURN FROM FISHING TRIP

FULLERTON, July 28.—Fish stories are being circulated about the Fullerton police station following the return of Officers E. Garner and Roy Mills from San Diego, where Garner caught a 23-pound barracuda and a 25-pound barracuda. Claude Mills accompanied them on the deep sea fishing trip, but he was said to have caught "just some fish."

At present, Sergeant John Gregory is acting chief of police while Chief J. M. Pearson is on his vacation.

NOMINATIONS WILL BE MADE BY MERCHANTS

Names of members to be placed in nomination for election to the board of directors of the Merchants' division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce are to be submitted to the board of directors of the organization at the meeting tomorrow by a committee recently appointed for this purpose by James N. Harding, chairman of the division. It was announced today by A. Cavalli, manager.

The committee making the selection of names to be voted on at the August election, is composed of H. E. Willard, Bruce E. Switzer, Claude McDowell, Walter Swanberger and James Harding. Cavalli said today that through the co-operation of the Los Angeles Better Business bureau, the Merchants' division has been able to stop certain misrepresentations of local shopkeepers in the advertising and announcements and that several storekeepers have been reprimanded for "undue business tactics and misrepresentations."

"No misrepresentations will be tolerated," Cavalli said, "and each complaint will be investigated." Cavalli also said that there has been some complaint from merchants concerning poor street illumination after 11 p. m. and that a request has been presented asking for action to secure better lighting until later hours so that the city would present a better appearance to later visitors.

$7587 JUDGMENT IN DAMAGE SUIT

Demanding Judgment of $54,282 for injuries received when his automobile was struck by a truck driven by James C. Mallon, Charles A. Nevin yesterday was awarded damages of $7587 against Mallon. The verdict was returned by a jury that heard the testimony in department three, superior court. The verdict was returned before Judge G. K. Scovell who heard the case.

Nevin was seriously injured in May, 1931, at the intersection of Orange and Grand avenues, near Buena Park, when his automobile was struck by an oil truck driven by Mallon. At the time of collision the truck is said to have locked wheels with the automobile driven by Nevin and dragged it more than 100 feet. Nevin, it was testified, has been under the care of a doctor since the accident.

10 CHILI DRYING PLANTS DESTROYED

Ten chili drying plants located at Five Points were destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock last night, the Huntington Beach fire department saving 11 other small buildings from destruction.

Lou Hill, a fireman, was burned about the head and arms in fighting the flames. The burns were not considered serious.

The firemen were handicapped by lack of water, finally securing enough to fight the fire from an irrigation ditch.

No peppers were in the small buildings, which are owned by a group of Japanese ranchers.

Piles Go Quick

No Selves—No Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID and prescribed it for 100 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that McRoy Drug Co. and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery.—Ad.

WALTHER MEET DELEGATES IN COUNTY TODAY

Delegates to the 40th International Walther League convention at Los Angeles, today enjoyed a trip through Orange county, visiting some of the largest Lutheran churches in Southern California and stopping in Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim.

They inspected the Olive Heights packing house and were guests at a reception at Orange.

Delegates are now leaving the convention city to return to their homes in all portions of the United States and Canada.

The reelection of E. J. Gallmeyer as president of the Walther League and the election of Harry J. Wendland of Inglewood, as Western Vice-President, were highlights of the election.

Hailing the Olympic Game program as a great aid to international goodwill the League adopted the following resolution: "Resolved that we dedicate ourselves to the preservation of this blessed peace among the nations of the world according to the clearly stated ideals of Scripture in order that the temporal welfare of mankind may be unimpeded and that we heartily endorse the friendly contests of athletic abilities among the nations in the Olympiad as a splendid example of manifesting supremacy in particular fields without destruction."

Evidence of satisfactory growth in the League was given by W. F. Weltherman, junior director and Professor E. H. Engelbrecht, international field secretary. During the past year, 75 senior and 63 Junior societies have joined the Walther League, a total of 146 new groups. On the rolls there are now 1297 senior and 515 Junior societies, altogether 1812 societies. The total Junior membership now numbers more than 14,000, or nearly one-third of the entire membership of the International body.

Morrison, Santa Ana, the court dismissing the complaint on account of insufficient evidence to hold the defendant. 275-POUND BLACK SEA BASS HOOKED

ASPIRANTS FOR OFFICE SPEAK TO UNEMPLOYED

Four Orange county candidates for public office were the speakers, last night, at a meeting of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana. The candidates each spoke briefly outlining their programs to be followed if elected.

Speakers were: Loyal K. King, Republican candidate for assemblyman from this district; Charles Van Wyk, candidate for supervisor from the first district; Franklin West, seeking election to the superior court bench; and H. S. Hoard, Liberty party candidate for congress.

King in his talk declared that if the state can work out some worthy reconstruction program it should take the proposal and apply to the government for finances from the reconstruction finance corporation fund and give work to the unemployed of the state. He pointed out that the city of Los Angeles already has applied for government assistance in carrying out its program. Los Angeles and expenses of government must come down, he declared, and the state must do something for the unemployed. Devising methods to cut expenditures and taxes and at the same time evolve a program of self-liquidating construction that will provide jobs is the job of the legislative body, he said. To these things King pledged himself if elected.

Van Wyk spoke on methods of providing work for local labor and assuring this local labor jobs on improvements to be paid for through county funds. He said, in part:

"In an effort to secure against further repetition of our present condition and to insure our local labor of its full right, the use of local labor on all contract construction should be made a fact rather than something to talk about."

"In the past it has been the practice of our contract letting authorities to specify local labor. The contract is let to an outside contractor on open bid. He employs local men and the next day discharges them for inefficiency and replaced them with his own crew."

"The violation of a contract calling for local labor should in every instance carry a penalty to insure the fulfillment of the contract. Supervision of this much needed work should be charged to the local building inspector who, acting as a checker of employment rolls—making a daily report of employment conditions direct to those charged with letting the contract would speedily bring about contract fulfillment. If there were such put into the contract whereby funds would be withheld in the event of failure to abide by the letter of the contract."

West said that he believes that a judge of the superior court is a servant of the people and not a czar nor autocrat. He said that if elected he would treat all people alike and base his judgment upon evidence and the laws.

Hoard spoke on free silver.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

THIRD CHARGE FILED AGAINST FATHER, SON

Adding to the troubles of Alonzo O. Hunsaker, 60, and Ogden K. Hunsaker, 33, father and son, Santa Monica brokers, already facing charges filed against them in Los Angeles and San Juan Capistrano, was the filing yesterday of a new charge in the court of Justice of Peace Kenneth E. Morrison, charging them with issuing a check with intent to defraud.

The complaint was filed by Fred A. Storey, representing the Rabbon Hardware and Marine company. The defendants were arrested by sheriff's officers and booked at the county jail where shortly afterwards they were released on $1000 bail each. According to the complaint, the alleged worthless check was given for merchandise during the month of September, 1930. The check, drawn on a Los Angeles bank, was returned on account of insufficient funds, it was stated.

The Hunsakers are well known in the oil industry, having been identified with development activities in different parts of the Southland.

According to census figures, about 22 per cent of all deaths in the United States are due to communicable diseases.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

NEW ZEALAND BOATING CREW AT CLUB MEET

ORANGE, July 28.—Members of the Orange Lions club had as guests at luncheon at the American Legion clubhouse yesterday, the New Zealand boating crew, in California for the Olympic Games. "God Save the King" was sung as the athletes entered the room. Mrs. Bess Coe was accompanist. The crew presented a very smart appearance in gray trousers, black coats bound with gray, white shirts and black gray striped ties. The opening ceremonies of the club were conducted by Ivan Swanger, president of the Orange county council of Lions clubs and former president of the Orange club. Burli Wines, club president, then took charge of the meeting and Gordon X. Richmond was the chairman of the day. In introducing the speaker of the day, Ted Gully, of the New Zealand crew, said that the New Zealand athletes had traveled 7000 miles to take part in the games. Gully declared that the hospitality showed by Southern California had been overwhelming. He introduced the members of the crew and explained how they were selected for the Olympic contest. In New Zealand, he said, champions from various boat races are selected as members of the crew. A committee of three men is chosen to attend the regattas and races to make the selections. Some of the men, he said, were veterans and some are young men of 20.

Many persons, said Gully, think that the New Zealanders cannot speak English. There are 68,000 natives of New Zealand who live on the island, said the speaker, and the natives have equal rights with the white people. An interesting part of the program was the war cry of the natives given by the crew, each of whom was introduced individually. Lieut. James Workman, member of the winning California boat crew at the Olympics at New Amsterdam in 1928, was a guest of the club and gave a brief talk. Lieut. Workman, who was recently commissioned in the air service, is now stationed at Marsh field. He is a graduate of the Orange Union High school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Workman, of this city. Lieut. Workman told of some of the latest developments in flying and of blind flying as the most interesting thing in aeronautics. The blind flying, he said, is done under a hood with only instruments to guide the flyer. The greatest thrill he ever had, Workman said, was the finish of the race in Amsterdam, and this experience was more thrilling than the sound of the starter's gun or his first solo flight, he declared. Guests present included Judge Frank Tausch, August Eltiste and Bill Payne, of Anaheim; Fred Lentz, Miss Billie Muffelman, Mrs. Rose Stanfield, Roch Bradshaw, Frank Collins, Seth Meunich, C. H. Robinson and Stanley V. Mahur. "Cactus" Preston, youthful cowboy singer of this city, gave an entertaining program of songs, accompanying himself on the guitar. Tables were centered with international flags and lunch was served by the American Legion auxiliary.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

July 28, 1932.
Mr. J. F. Burke, Editor,
The Daily Register,
Santa Ana, California.

Dear Sir:
Your paper last night brought a lot of good news to the people of Orange county.

Item No. 1. "County Farm Bureau asks supervisors to cut at least 30 cents from the present 40-cent road tax levied on all property outside of incorporated cities."

Item No. 2. "Associated Chambers of Commerce adopts a report for strict public economy, further reductions of official salaries, and levying taxes for governmental projects only and not special interests."

Item No. 3. "Fullerton Chamber of Commerce directors adopted resolution against deficiency judgments and present method of foreclosure by trust deed holders."

Item No. 4. "102 miles of roads affecting Orange county about to be taken over in secondary state highway system."

There was a time not so long ago when it was most unpopular in Orange county to use your own common sense and judgment in trying to get justice by criticizing any act of any public official and suggesting improvements. Some of us knew that very well for we were through it and suffered because of our opinions.

The first three items above indicate that a change has taken place, and I want to congratulate the chambers of commerce and Farm Bureau in joining the Civic League in the fight it has been carrying on for reduced tax expenditures and a more representative county government, with more consideration for PEOPLE and less subservience to MONEY.

We have been desiring the support of other organizations, and are most happy that the Farm Bureau and chambers of commerce are now giving their county-wide support to our program. It indicates we are all getting on "down to earth" level and are ready to consider public matters on their merits and not on the personalities involved.

Item No. 4 is a good thing for taxpayers, because it means that many miles of Orange county paved roads may soon be taken over by the state highway system and maintained out of the state's gas tax of 2 cents per gallon, thus releasing our own 1-cent per gallon gas tax for other roads, and permitting still further reductions in county road taxes on real estate.

Now if the 104 tax-fixing bodies in the county, all public officials, and the grand jury will co-operate with the Farm Bureau, chambers of commerce and the Civic League, government costs will be materially reduced and we will have taken one big step toward economic recovery here in Orange county.

Very sincerely yours,
WAYNE GOBLE,
Secretary
Orange County Civic League.

Santa Ana, July 27, 1932.

Mr. Burke:—
Dear Sir: I want to congratulate you for your stand against the liquor element, with their whiskey wet newspapers controlled by wet millionaires in the east. My experience with the saloon, and the liquor element, here well I remember. That was when I was a boy 18 years of age. I have seen drunks sprawled on the sidewalk and in the gutters in Los Angeles. One could get a truck load in one city block on Saturday nights. The worst dirty argument the wets put forth is this—They say prohibition cannot be enforced. I can answer that very quickly. I'll say nine-tenths of the wets who say that, you will find they are the law breaker himself. Whether he is bootlegger or beach drinker. And also you will find the law abiding citizen is not shouting such stuff. I hope to do my part to keep this country from the saloon or anything like that is done in Canada. There the damnable stuff, whiskey or beer, is carried home, among the children.

Mr. Burke I say more power to you
Yours truly,
ED HERTZBERG,
505 E. Walnut St., Santa Ana.

HOOKS and SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The baseball season is more than half gone. The heat is terrible in Los Angeles. The corn crop in Iowa looks good. And those Cleveland Indians aren't to be counted out of anybody's penultimate calculations. Not just yet.

"Sooner or later, somebody is going to crack," is Manager Peck's sage observation. "I don't think it will be our club. We've had our best streak. From now on we'll be plenty tough."

The Indians won 14 of 17 games against eastern opposition on their last swing into the so-called "strong half of the circuit." That's $24 ball. They won every series, four victories in Philadelphia, four in Washington, two in New York and four in Boston.

PORTER AT THE PLATE

"How come?" I asked Dick Porter. Mr. Porter, you know, is the twelfth one. He's a great favorite in Cleveland. Not because of his shimmy, exactly. In spite of it.

"We just started to play ball," Dick answered.

"Was it pitching?"

"Our pitching was good," was his reply. "Nearly every one of the starting pitchers finished his game. We didn't need any relief pitchers."

"The boys hit pretty well, didn't they?"

"The whole team hit better than .300," said Porter. "Before we started east, our club average was only .280. Most of us picked up. Burnett, Cissell and Sewell, particularly. We added 10 points to our team average and jumped from third to first in the team standing. We're the best hitting club in the majors when the boys are on."

And how about defensive play, Mr. Porter?

"That improved, too," said Dick. "Cissell and Burnett averaged second base played great ball. You know for general all-around play, that pair rates as good as any second base combination in the league. They're working hard, and helping us a lot, too. Morgan also improved his play at first. Everybody on the club worked hard. We thought we saw a chance so we got busy."

Individual averages clearly show that improvement. Late in June, Averill was hitting .335, Porter .321, Vosmik .310, Morgan .298, Burnett .284, Cissell .278, Kamm .269 and Sewell .266. Then they cut loose.

At the conclusion of the eastern trip, the averages read: Averill .340, with eight new home runs; Burnett .323, Porter stayed at .321, but added several two-baggers to his league-leading total; Vosmik .316; Cissell .303; Morgan .300, and two valuable homers; Sewell .277. Kamm remained at .269, but his timely hitting figured in nearly every victory.

HARDER WON FOUR

The pitching over the same period also looked up. Harder won four and Huddlin, Hildebrand and Russell bagged two. Ferrell won five and lost two. Brown won two and lost one. Only "Sarge" Connally failed to improve his record. The Sarge dropped two.

All this resulted in a rapid climb from fifth place to second, within the space of 10 days. The A's later retrieved second place at the expense of the Tigers and Browns.

As it stands now, the Indians alone are left to battle the eastern teams. Their western rivals failed them in recent weeks, losing 22 games and winning only seven against the Yanks and Athletics.

CALIFORNIA'S CREW OFF FOR SOUTHLAND

BIRKLEY, July 28.—The University of California's championship crew, which will represent the United States in the Olympic Games, will depart for Los Angeles tonight.

Four hundred years after the reckless, dashing Paris, son of a Trojan king, spirited queenly Helen from the side of Menelaus, ruler of Sparta, and the ensuing decade of strife had laid Troy in ruins, Iphitos of Elis offered religious sacrifice to Zeus at the foot of Olympia.

Warring kingdoms at once ceased their combat. Free-born Greeks of unmixed blood moved from the Mediterranean shores of Europe, Asia and Africa toward Olympia on the banks of the Alpheus to honor the greatest of Greek gods. Four festive days followed. There were sacrificial offerings, and then contests in running, leaping, spear-throwing and discus-throwing, dedicated to Zeus.

And thus the Olympic games were born in 776 B. C. a forerunner of the sports competition that today embraces athletes of all nations, races and religions. It was purely a Greek spectacle then, and wholly for the Greeks. But the 1928 contests will see thousands of athletes from six continents in Los Angeles to participate in the

WAY MIDDOUGH NEW PROMOTER AT DELHI CLUB

After three months of ballyhoo, Henry Penna and "Black Jack" Stevens finally meet here tonight to settle a controversial subject of which is the better light heavy-weight.

They wind up a program of 10 three-round amateur bouts which formally reopens the Orange County Athletic club at Delhi under the guidance of Way Middough, general announcer of past southside performances.

Although the Penna-Stevens argument has "cooled" over a period of many weeks and there is small likelihood that new Promoter Middough will have to summon shoe-horns to seat his folk, the show figures to do a substantial business. Penna and Stevens are both high class fighters, better even than the average professional run, and both hit sincerely enough to provide the possibility of a knock-out.

To Close During Olympics

With the A. A. U. permission to proceed indefinitely with amateur shows here, Promoter Middough said he planned to close the house after tonight's card until after the Olympic Games but thereafter show regularly as long as the fans indicate they wanted boxing here.

Middough believes his opening show is the greatest ever offered here at popular prices—25 and 40 cents, no tax.

"Bud" McCarter of Orange and Lloyd Manderscheid of Santa Ana, former well known school athletes, meet in the semi-final at 165 pounds, the same weight at which Penna and Stevens collide.

Johnny Hines and Ray Campo are slated for the special event at 122 pounds.

Grid Star on Program

One of the most interesting bouts of the evening should be that between Cecil Storey and John Ellering, 175-pounders. Santa Ana football fans will remember Storey as the fullback on Long Beach Poly Hi teams of 1929 and 1930.

He has just completed his freshman year at the University of Chicago. Ellering was once rated the champion amateur light heavy of Southern California.

Other bouts:

Kid Sierra, Doheny Park vs. Freddie Garcia, Compton, 158 pounds.

Nat Mills, Irvine, vs. Jack Otey, Long Beach, 135 pounds.

Tony Otero, Santa Ana, vs. Duke Hyder, Santa Ana, 142 pounds.

Baby Sal Smith, Delhi, vs. Indian Jimmie Solis, 122 pounds.

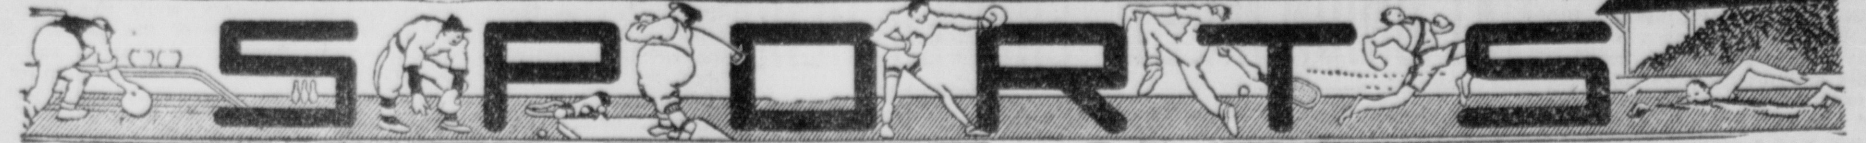

Bill Wana, Westminster, vs. Mose Lane, Long Beach, 135 pounds.

Raoul Solis, Delhi, vs. Young Jack Johnson, Los Angeles, 122 pounds.

MRS. RUSSELL WINS GOLF AT WILLOWICK

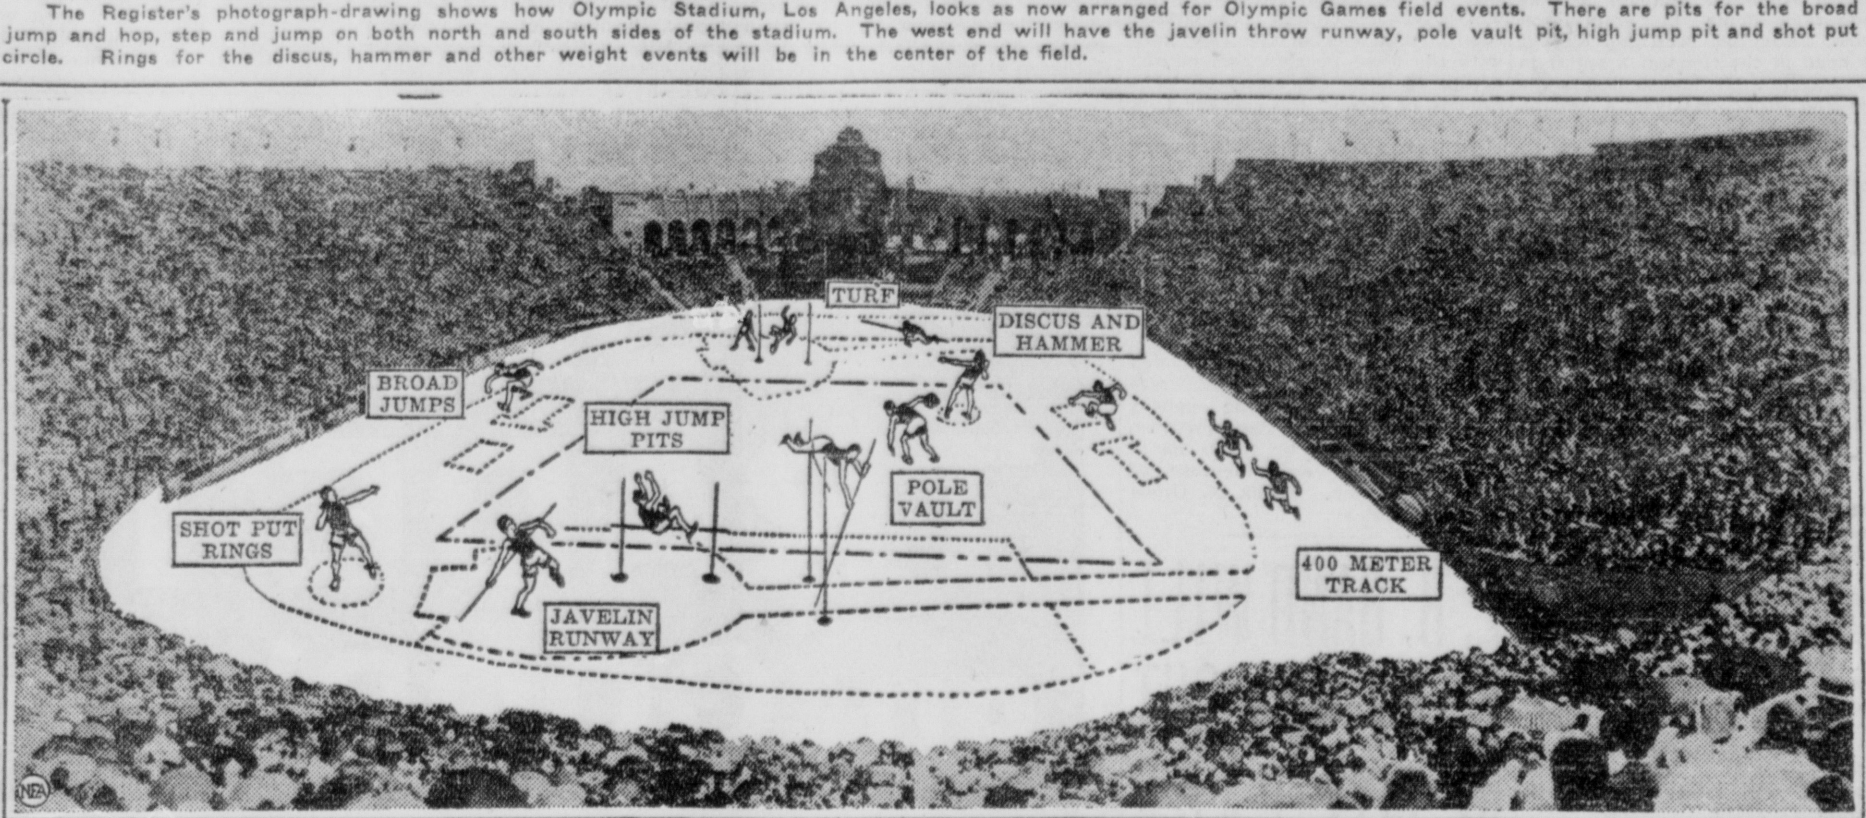

Mrs. E. E. Russell of Anaheim won first place and Mrs. G. M. Woolley of Santa Ana second place in a blind bogey tournament conducted at the Willowick Golf club here yesterday.

Those competing were Mesdames and Misses Mabel McFadden, Vanche Plumb, A. F. Trawick, Dean Campbell, J. R. Trawick, G. McLean, Claude Sleeper, Clara Hoover, Earl Lepper, E. H. Guthrie, G. M. Woolley, Lena Austin, E. L. Lushman, Ethel Russell, Eva Taylor, William Ulyman, Maxine Smith, Vada Warner, N. W. Miller, J. G. McCracken, Elva Chapman, Josie Schaffer, P. Adams and Flo Schultz.

ARRANGEMENT OF OLYMPIC STADIUM FOR L. A. GAMES FIELD EVENTS

The Register's photograph-drawing shows how Olympic Stadium, Los Angeles, looks as now arranged for Olympic Games field events. There are pits for the broad jump and hop, step and jump on both north and south sides of the stadium. The west end will have the javelin throw runway, pole vault pit, high jump pit and shot put circle. Rings for the discus, hammer and other weight events will be in the center of the field.

S. A. GIRL WINS WAY TO FINALS AT SEABRIGHT

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 28.—(UP)—Two Californians, Miss Helen Jacobs of Berkeley and Miss Josephine Cruikshank of Santa Ana, moved into the final round of the women's singles in the Seabright tennis tournament today.

Miss Jacobs defeated Miss Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3, in the first semi-final match, while Miss Cruikshank defeated Miss Virginia Hilberry of Philadelphia, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

If Miss Jacobs defeats Miss Cruikshank in the final tomorrow, she will gain permanent possession of the handsome Seabright bowl.

BUTLER REPORT DUE FOR RELEASE FRIDAY

PASADENA, July 28.—(UP)—Graduate managers and faculty representatives of the Pacific Coast conference took a holiday today after fixing the 1932 football schedule and disposing of Sunday sports problems.

They will meet again tomorrow to hear the report of Jonathan Butler, conference investigator, on conditions in Far Western sports. Officials said the report would be kept secret, although it contained only "constructive criticism."

The conference yesterday approved the participation in motion picture work of college athletes so long as their names are not mentioned and they receive not more than $10 a day.

Salary of football officials was reduced 20 per cent. Newspaper photographers were given full privileges of the football field during games.

The conference reinstated John Blanton, Oregon State quarterback back of 1931, and Ted Giesecke, Oregon back, declaring that the violation of rules in soccer games which led to their being declared ineligible was only technical.

HEIGHT OF PALMS

Palm trees in the tropics, under ideal conditions, often attain a height of nearly 100 feet. This is an exceptional case, as even a tree 100 feet tall is regarded as an extreme.

MISS BABCOCK, PRACTICALLY UNKNOWN UNTIL THIS TOURNAMENT, GAVE MISS JACOBS A STERN BATTLE.

Miss Jacobs won the first three games of the match, only to have her youthful opponent run off six in a row to take the first set.

Miss Babcock's game slumped in the second set and she dropped six straight games in less than 20 minutes.

The Berkeley girl took the first five games in the third set before Miss Babcock regained control of her strokes. Once again in form, she brought the score to 3-5, only to drop the match on her own service.

Westminster To Play Tilt With Santa Ana Here

The Santa Ana-Westminster baseball game, scheduled for Westminster's field, will be played instead in Santa Ana's Bowl tomorrow night, officials of both clubs announced today. The Westminster club has had financial difficulties this season and figures it can do more box office business by moving the contest here.

John Wilcox, business manager of the Santa Ana Stars, also announced today that Santa Ana would play Glendale here Saturday night. Glendale will be an applicant for a National Night league franchise in 1933, Wilcox stated.

HITT TURNS IN PERFECT GAME FOR NATIONALS

Hurling in the same form that once made him Santa Ana's premier pitcher, Gene Hitt of the First National bank turned in a no-hit game against Weber's bakery in a seven-inning City league ball game at the Bowl last night.

The Bakers made three runs, going down to 6-3 defeat, but were unable to pry a safe blow off the bald veteran who fanned 10, closing the contest with three straight strikeouts. Weber's made two in the third when Scott and Sifton opened with walks and made the rounds on passed balls and two sacrifice hits. They got another in the sixth on a walk, a passed ball and an error.

Pitcher Hitt aided his own cause, with a fourth inning homer.

Victory kept the First Nationals snapping at the heels of the undefeated league leaders, MacMillan Gasoline, along with J. C. Penney company and the Green Cat cafe.

The Green Cats also won last night, blanking Red and White Stars, 3-0, after Hitt had registered his mound masterpiece. Wilson Seacord and Stevens, rival gunners, were both at their best. Seacord whiffing an even dozen.

Both allowed four hits but three of those off Stevens produced runs.

Tonight's games: J. C. Penney vs. M. S. South, 7 p. m.; MacMillan Gas vs. Elks, 8 p. m.

45,000 BOO BARRY, LONG COUNT REFEREE

CHICAGO, July 28.—(UP)—The ghost of the "long count" returned to Soldier's field last night when Dave Barry, referee of the second Dempsey-Tunney bout in 1927, stepped into the ring to referee two bouts on the German-U. S. international amateur program.

In the loudest roar of the evening, the crowd of 45,000 counted in unison up to "14" and then finished their "Bronx cheer" with a lusty "boo."

BILL INGRAM URGES RULES MORATORIUM

PASADENA, July 28.—(UP)—Bill Ingram, University of California football coach, may present a suggestion for a moratorium on football rules for five years when the American Football Coaches' association opens its meetings here tomorrow, it was indicated today.

Ingram said yesterday he hoped such a suggestion would be adopted. "Let the rules alone for five years," Ingram urged.

Vines Plays Borotra In Cup Opener

PARIS, July 28.—(UP)—Jean Borotra of France and Ellsworth Vines of the United States will meet in the first match of Davis Cup play tomorrow, the draw decided today.

Henri Cochet and Wilmer Allison will meet in second singles, also Friday.

Allison and John Van Ryn will form the American doubles team against Cochet and Jacques Brugnon Saturday.

In Sunday's singles, Allison plays Borotra and Cochet plays Vines.

The draw favored the Americans, as Cochet must meet Vines Sunday after the strenuous doubles Saturday.

Vines will rest Saturday.

The Americans believed Allison would beat Borotra, as the Texan appeared in top form and should beat the "Bouding Basque" on sheer stamina.

FLEET TUSTIN SCHOOL GIRL TO RUN IN RELAY

Evelyn Furtuch, Tustin's flying schoolgirl, will run for the United States in the Olympic Games after all.

Although ineligible for the 100 meters because she fell within a yard of the finish line in the final Women's Olympic 100 yards, Miss Furtuch will be one of four members of an American 400-meter relay team, according to a decision announced today.

She is now training with the U. S. women's squad at Los Angeles junior college and will go to the post with her three teammates for the preliminaries the afternoon of August 6, the finals being scheduled for the following day.

Undoubtedly one of the three best girl sprinters in the country, if not the world, Miss Furtuch was shut out of the final tryout heat when she stumbled and fell flat on the track hardly a yard from the finish line. Her able coach, Vincent Humeston of Tustin HI, who saw the race, said she was running neck and neck with two other girls and at worst would have been third. Besides these three, five competitors were in the finals, although the original plan was to have only six start.

In one of her preliminary heats, all of which were run off inside an hour, Miss Furtuch eliminated Eleanor Egg, National champion at 100 yards, and one of the two women who have ever beaten Stella Walsh of Cleveland, who will compete for Poland in the Olympics. Miss Furtuch is the only other who has defeated Miss Walsh.

In her semi-final fixture, Miss Furtuch eliminated the celebrated "Babe" Didrikson of Texas.

In her final, the Tustin lass was off to a very slow start but had made up almost all the lost ground and was running second by inches when she hit a soft spot on the track, lost her balance and fell a yard

Late News From Orange County Communities

65 AT DINNER HELD BY GIRLS AT BEACH CAMP

NEWPORT BEACH, July 28.—The girls at the Balboa island summer camp for the girls of the First Presbyterian church of Pasadena, laid plates for 65 people yesterday at their 6 o'clock dinner, welcoming into camp a group of 45 girls and eight leaders who had come down during the afternoon to spend 10 days in the camp.

Dr. Freeman, pastor of the church; Mrs. Freeman, Mr. Black, business manager of the church, and Mrs. Black, all of whom had been attending a meeting of the Presbyterian churches of Southern California in San Diego, were honor guests at the dinner, stopping for the occasion on their way back to their homes in Pasadena. The girls have arranged quite a full and interesting program of events for their stay here, including volleyball games, leathercraft, classes, boating, swimming, and a mock circus indoors. Breakfast will be had on the beach one morning at least. Vespers are to be sung every evening at 5 o'clock preceding the 6 o'clock dinner.

The staff includes Eleanor March, camp director; Mrs. Foote, housekeeper; Mrs. Bakela, house mother; Esther Black, leader in Bible study; Helen Cobb and Joey Doherty, swimming instructors; Mary Ellis and Lois Bruce, handicraft teachers, and Miss Bruce also teaching music.

NEWPORT CLUB IS TOLD VALUE OF FOOTBALL

NEWPORT BEACH, July 28.—The Harbor Service club was entertained at yesterday's noon luncheon hour by "Clipper" Smith, coach at Santa Clara university, and a former all star athlete at Notre Dame in 1919 and 1920, who had just returned from a coaches' school in Texas and is at present a guest of Alfonso Hamann for a few days here.

In his talk, Smith stressed the value of football as a real training for manhood and held up to ridicule the exaggerated reports of the number of deaths caused by the game in the year just past, stating that out of 45 deaths reported, that there were actually only 22 deaths from that cause in the United States in the year, and further stated that statistics show that there are more deaths among school athletes during the vacation months from various causes than from sports when in school.

According to Smith, some dramatic changes have been made in the rules of the game but their real worth will not be known until they have been put into practice.

Speaking as chairman of a committee on airports, Harry Williamson stated that plans are under way to try to arrange with the Irvine company to make a landing field on the lowlands immediately west of the Balboa island bridge where several planes have been making landings in the past.

Vice President John Siegel wielded the gavel at yesterday's meeting due to the absence of Chairman Leroy Anderson. Dr. Grundy is program chairman to be in charge of next week's entertainment.

Talks On Indians Given At Buena Park Gathering

BUENA PARK, July 28.—The American Indian was the subject for study at the regular meeting of the Missionary society in the Social hall of the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Robison presented a paper prepared by Mrs. Susan Hanson, one of the oldest members of the group. The paper gave the contributions of the Indians. The Rev. W. L. Newman gave a general outline of the Rosewood Indian reservation and the work there. He also gave some very interesting accounts of personal experiences at the Indian school at Santee, Neb. The gaining of the Indians' confidence is one of the biggest problems, he said.

Mrs. Jesse Gill gave an interesting account of a Sunday in an Indian church. Mrs. J. B. Robison read a paper entitled "Fifty Years Among the Dakota Indians." Mrs. Nellie Bastard told of the recent trip to the Sherman Institute near Riverside. Mrs. J. Bacon displayed many articles of Indian art at the conclusion of the meeting.

C. OF C. PLANS TO ENTER GIRL IN FAIR EVENT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 28.—The Newport harbor area may enter a candidate in the "Miss California" contest to be staged in connection with the California State fair at Sacramento. A discussion of the matter took place at last night's meeting of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce at the city hall and it was finally referred to W. L. Jordan, chairman of the chamber's membership committee.

The state fair management is looking for a "Miss California," who will be sent to the World's fair at Chicago next year and each community in the state is invited to select a woman or girl to send to the fair on State Admission day, September 9, when "Miss California" will be chosen.

The contest is open to all girls residing in California, according to a communication read at last night's meeting. There are no age limits and the basis of judging will be personality, general knowledge of California and attractiveness. A girl is sought who "best typifies the charm and hospitality of the Golden State" and it is important that she be qualified to "intelligently answer questions pertaining to California."

Theo Robins, one of the members of the chamber, said that employers should tell those working for them to buy according to their needs.

"If those who have the means to buy did not do so but hoarded their money, those who are unemployed would never get jobs and more who are now working would lose theirs," he said. "People should be encouraged to buy what they need if they can. The economy urge has been carried to extremes and is one of the main causes of the depression."

The job of engraving about 40 cups to be given to winners in the recent Tournament of Lights was left to Lew Wallace.

LA HABRA SCRIPT PLAN HELD SUCCESS

LA HABRA, July 28.—The script plan of the La Habra Co-operative workers has so far proved a fair means of distributing food, stuffs and clothing to those in need, it was declared today.

The scrip issued is in $1 and 25 cent denominations and is given out in payment for work performed and is redeemable at the commissary department of the association in supplies of food and clothing as needed by the workers. All commodities as soon as received by the organization are price marked; labor is paid for at a standard rate per hour or day as the case may be, and surplus material to be sold outside for cash is priced in accordance with the prevailing prices at the stores.

Robert R. Phillips, president of the organization, states that the scrip, as it is called, should be looked upon as money and not as just scrip. He said that for every dollar of scrip issued there is an equivalent of approximately $1.25 to cover same in the commissary department in supplies. The scrip is about the size of a check and printed on paper similar to that used in checks. Each piece is dated and numbered in code to prevent it being counterfeited. A regular set of books is kept by the organization with a cost sheet on each commodity, which will at the close of the work show whether there is a loss or profit in the way the work is being handled.

WETS' CLAIMS HIT IN BUENA PARK ADDRESS

BUENA PARK, July 28.—Gustavus Schneider, of Riverside, state executive secretary of the Men's brotherhood, addressed the brotherhood meeting this week.

In speaking of the economic situation Schneider expressed his belief that the people of this country are better situated than they think. America controls the major part of the world's gold supply, a goodly part of the inventive brains, wonderful natural resources and a great network of transportation facilities, he said.

The depression, he stated, has caused thinking and the American people are thinking their way out of the present situation. With these facts at hand it is not hard to believe that a better prospect will come, Schneider declared.

"God help the American people if the 18th amendment is repealed," Schneider said. "In spite of assertions to the contrary, the liquor trade in its heyday only employed 25,000 persons in the entire industry from producer to consumer. In the height of the liquor production, only one bushel out of every three produced by the farmer was used in the making of intoxicating drinks."

The Rev. LaRue C. Watson spoke a few words of greeting to the brotherhood, expressing his pleasure in taking the new pastorate. The Rev. W. L. Newman spoke a few words of farewell.

Two more games are scheduled, one for Friday in Garden Grove, and one for next week.

A committee appointed to interview the directors of the Smeltzer Lima Bean Growers association at Smeltzer, states that the new manager, Mr. Molesinger, has agreed to the suggestion made by the committee that only one member of any family be employed on the bean house crew next season and that the need of the families be considered in hiring help.

James Daley, county association committeeman, was present at the last meeting and spoke as did the Rev. W. A. Matson, local member of the welfare committee. The regular meetings will continue to be held in the Oceanview school house. Around 60 persons were present at this week's meeting.

A system of scrip to be used by the association is to be worked out to present at next Monday's meeting and Mr. Lawton and Mr. Matson are on this committee.

CARMICHAEL IN STATEMENT OF HIS CANDIDACY

Pledging himself to keep the faith with signers of his nominating petition and the public in general and to conduct a campaign free of all personalities W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton and candidate for supervisor from the Third District has announced the platform upon which he is seeking election.

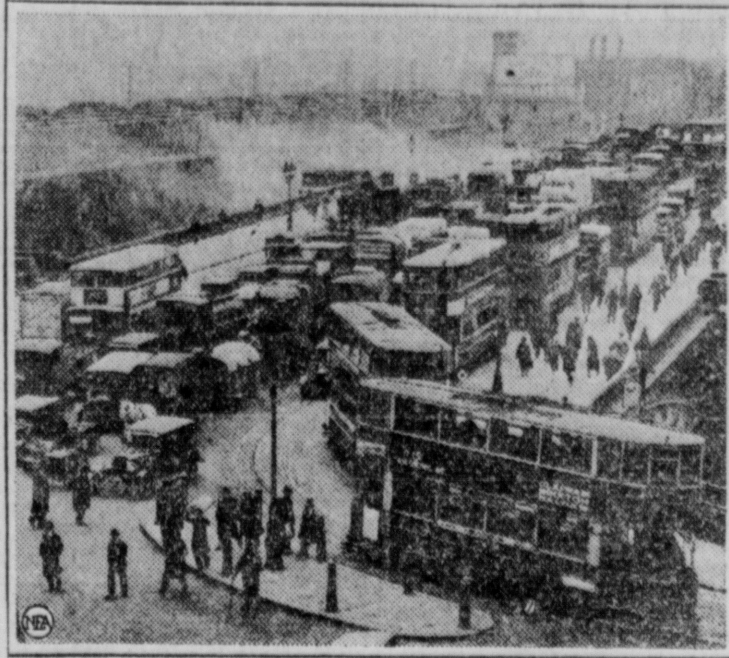

In the statement he suggests a law prohibiting the same person holding the post of supervisor for more than two terms consecutively; reduction of the budget; a police patrol for protection of ranch homes; reduction of district road tax to at least 10 cents; equitable distribution of gas tax between cities and county; and a constructive plan in connection with the water.

The statement follows: "It is my intention to keep faith with those who have signed my petition, and the public in general, to conduct a campaign free of all personalities, clean and of a high standard in keeping with the American spirit of open, fair and honorable competition.

"If elected I will make every effort to create sentiment sufficient for the enactment of a law prohibiting the office of supervisor to be occupied by the same person more than two terms consecutively. To make a detailed survey of all departments of the county government looking to a definite reduction in the county budget, thereby reducing taxes to the minimum without impairing the efficiency of work to be done, ever keeping in mind the present purchasing power of the American dollar; to cooperate and encourage in every possible way the conservation of water, of fish and game, and all our natural resources; to support wholeheartedly every endeavor of agriculture, looking to the best interest of the farmer and ranch business of the county, including a systematic and definite police patrol for the protection of the ranch and the home; to give due consideration to the present unemployment situation, and to offer a plan of constructive action from which the dole system will be removed and the workman's self respect maintained; to foster a fair consideration of county business for county people where possible, keeping in mind that unfair competition from the outside pays no taxes within the county; to cut the 40 cent road tax to 10 cents or remove it entirely; to clarify the law regarding distribution of gas tax money and make an equitable division between the cities and county; to encourage county planning, the making of a master plan for the operation of the planning commission, which will be of future value to our county, saving unnecessary expenditures and the tax payer's money; to uphold the Constitution of the United States in its entirety and the enforcement of all laws of the state and ordinance of the county; to support a road and highway maintenance program in cooperation with the highway commission of the state and all other agencies which tend to the building up of the welfare and happiness of our people.

LONDON TRAFFIC JAM

Here's a jam which motorists of dear ol' Lunnion often find themselves in. The scene is set at Blackfriars Bridge, London, one of the busiest traffic centers of the city. The bridge crosses the Thames and resulting traffic tangles at either end often tie up traffic for more than a mile. Trolleys, busses, wagons, trucks and passenger cars take part in the mixup.

"If elected I will maintain an office within the third district, where I can be reached personally, or by phone, and will give the best of my ability a dependable service with full, unbiased consideration of every problem.

"I have placed myself as a candidate for public office at the solicitation of those who knew of my qualifications, personal character, experience and ability. I hold my loyalty to the people and my honor beyond the approach of any political preferment. I pledge myself to do my best fearlessly, honestly, and impartially in behalf of representative government for all the people."

Rapid Progress Made On Highway Improvement Work

NEWPORT BEACH, July 28.—One lane of the section of the Coast highway between the Arches crossing, where the highway and Newport boulevard intersect, and Corona Del Mar is now completed as a part of the Coast highway paving program that is being done by the John-Bresel company, and a good start has been made on the section between Corona Del Mar and Laguna Beach.

The project under way is to make the road a three lane thoroughfare all the way to San Diego. In the making of the roadbed south from Corona Del Mar many curves have been straightened, dips have been filled, and many hills have been cut down. According to a statement made yesterday by a company official, the paving between the Arches crossing and Laguna Beach will in all probability be finished and open to traffic within the next month.

Between 1900 and 1930 the population of the United States increased 62 per cent.

WORLD NEEDS LEADERS WITH GREAT HEARTS

Declaring that the world needs "men with strong minds, and great hearts—men who have honor, men who will not lie, who have no lust for power nor greed for office," Dr. Alexander Cairns, last night, outlined his social philosophy in an address at the First Methodist church.

Dr. Cairns, noted orator, humorist, columnist, and philosopher spoke under auspices of the Knights of the Round Table. He was introduced by J. F. Burke, who told of his early association with the speaker when both were engaged in prohibition work in the state of New Jersey. William Wright, vice president of the Knights of the Round Table, spoke briefly, opening the meeting.

Taking as his topic "The Man Worth While," Dr. Cairns, a general Irishman, disagreed with the poet who wrote:

"The man worth while is the man who can smile, when everything goes dead wrong," but went further than that.

Smile and Act "The man worth while," Cairns said, "is not the man who will smile when things go wrong but will get up and do something about it."

Quoting Thomas Paine who said "These are the times that try men's souls," he completed the thought with the quotation, "God give us men," by the Rev. J. G. Holland.

The saving of lost souls, will be the important job for men who meet the high standards set by the speaker. He defined a lost soul as "one to whom there is no response to the appeal of good." A thinking man is the man needed to save these souls. He quoted Carlyle who said "A thinking man is the worst enemy of the Prince of Darkness."

"The man worth while" and the man the world needs today was described by the speaker as a thinking man, a man of conviction and one who has a strong sense of duty. This man must be a romanticist and speak from the heart. He must also have a deep sympathy for his fellowman.

Speaking of the thinking man Dr. Cairns said that there are thousands of men who go to the polls every election and vote, many times unknowingly for or against anarchy, radicalism, communism or socialism without knowing the difference, one from another.

Communism Nonsense He told of a visit to Communist headquarters in New York City and declared "their stuff is nonsense. We need never fear radicalism until it gets brains."

When that happens we will have another French revolution." Referring to Socialism the speaker declared "Ignorance never got a man or a nation any place. If Socialism is good, let's know about it."

Declaring that while not all delinquents came from broken homes the broken home is responsible for 90 per cent of the delinquencies and that while Hoover, Mr. and Ramsay MacDonald were seated in Hoover's Rapidan camp talking world peace their respective countries were expending $60,000 an hour for war. "What are you going to do about such things as these?" he asked and stressed.

WILL FIGHT REPEAL

Northern Baptists, in assembly at San Francisco, have accepted the challenge of the wets and will battle against repeal of prohibition and the "cynical, sophisticated ways of an age steeped in materialism." National Baptist leaders shown mapping plans for the fight are, left to right, the Rev. Maurice A. Levy, the Rev. Mattison P. Jones, president, and Dr. Oscar Johnson.

WALNUT MEN WILL DISCUSS PICKING PRICE

A conference of representative walnut growers from the various sections of Southern California will be held at the Los Angeles office of the California Walnut Growers association next Friday at 4 p. m., according to J. A. Smiley, chairman of the walnut growers department of the Orange County Farm bureau.

This meeting will give an opportunity for the various districts to size up the crop and labor conditions for the coming harvest, it was pointed out. The representatives will endeavor to establish a basic price for picking walnuts in the respective districts.

The price conference immediately follows the inter-county walnut growers association meeting which starts at 2 o'clock at the same place. A. J. McFadden, of Santa Ana, will preside at the inter-county walnut meeting, which proposes to outline a detailed program for the annual Southern California walnut growers field day which will be held in Ventura county this year.

In entertaining at a charming bridge tea Tuesday afternoon in her home, 2424 Riverside drive, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland complimented her sister-in-law, Mrs. K. L. Goss of Minneapolis, Minn., who is spending two months here with Dr. and Mrs. Sutherland.

The home was brightened with sinias and other flowers for the occasion. As a result of the bridge games, Mrs. John Bower and Miss Helen Bower received the attractive awards for scoring high and low.

For serving a dainty tea menu at the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Sutherland decked the table with pink sinias, yellow daisies and delphinium in keeping with a pretty pastel theme. The soft light of green lanterns added to the effective setting.

Dr. and Mrs. Sutherland and Mrs. Goss plan to leave within the next few days for a ten-day automobile trip north along the Redwood highway. They are to be accompanied by Dr. Sutherland's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Sutherland of Corcoran, Calif., who arrived in this city yesterday.

W. C. T. U. Executives Arrange for Picnic, County Convention

A group of guests which included Orange County W. C. T. U. official board members, local presidents and state directors of that association residing in this county enjoyed the hospitality of the board's president, Mrs. Cora Hale, yesterday, at a luncheon in her Fullerton home.

Of the events scheduled by this organization for the near future, the Orange County W. C. T. U. picnic, to take place at Irvine park Friday, August 5, took precedence over others in the afternoon's discussion. The women of the Orange union will entertain on this occasion, other unions of the county, together with friends of the members, being invited to attend as guests a program which will include a picnic luncheon, addresses and music. Each member will be asked to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and table service.

Conference Dated
The next event of importance on the W. C. T. U. calendar will be the county convention, scheduled for September 8 and 9. The program, to be announced later, will take place in the Presbyterian church at Tustin.

Temperance executives discussed plans for the coming political campaign and read recommendations forwarded by the state. Officers were agreed that the union would support cry candidates in the approaching election and would give united support to the decision reached by the strategy committee of their organization.

Reports were heard on the W. C. T. U. day held at Pacific Palisades. Mrs. Clara Jones led a service of devotion.

Temperance Leaders
Executives present yesterday were, county officers: Mesdames Cora Hale, president; Estelle Harper, vice president; Sarah Brown, corresponding secretary; Elizabeth Warren, recording secretary; Alma J. Kellogg, treasurer; local presidents: Mesdames Cora Chapman of Cypress, Clara Jones of El Modena, Anna Zinke of Fullerton, Harper of Huntington Grove, Rosa Rowley of Huntington Beach, Anna Garretson of La Habra, Minnie Neville of Orange and Margaret Utt of Tustin; state directors: Mesdames Clara Jones, Minnie Neville, C. E. Utt and Miss Emily Cox. Others present were Mrs. Venna Anderson, county L. T. L. secretary, and a guest, Miss Paine.

Alan Revill Continues Interesting Letters On Southern Trip

Alan A. Revill, Santa Ana pianist and pipe organist who is spending the summer months with his sister, Mrs. Reginald Smith, in New Amsterdam, British Guiana, S. A., has been writing experiences, not only on the ocean trip to the southern country but since his arrival at New Amsterdam. His brother-in-law and sister, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and their daughter, visited him here in his home, 1012 Olive street, last summer and made many Santa Ana friends who are interested in their distant home in the southern hemisphere.

In one of his letters, posted at Curacao, Mr. Revill described his visit in Kingston, Jamaica, where he was entertained at one of the clubs and found especially interesting, a trip to Newcastle, a British army camp high in the hills. He found the climate very fine at an altitude of two or three thousand feet, although it was unbearably hot and humid at sea level after they reached Kingston.

"Jamaica is a most picturesque island and Kingston harbor is virtually landlocked," he wrote in one letter. "Vegetation is rank and mountains are covered to the summits. The population is fully 80 per cent black, and natives are constantly asking for small change. The coinage is the same as in England."

"I have been enjoying various strange tropical fruits, mangoes, ripe pineapples, and sorbet made from a fruit called sour-bone which has a pineapple guava flavor; also the water from green coconuts which fills the entire inside of the nut before the shell hardens and the meat forms."

Standard Bearers To Give Playlet

In order to raise money to assist in the education of a little Hindu girl, Standard Bearers of the First Methodist church will present a playlet, "The Eyes of the East Are on the West" Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the church.

Mrs. Fred Lazenby is director of the production. Girls taking part are the Misses Dorothy Grizzle, Janet Lutes, Margaret Guthrie, Catherine Budd, Ruth Budd, Joy Townsley, Helen Holmes, Marian Bradley, Margaret Davies, Dorothy Garner, Russell Mathew, Louise Vollmer, Dorothy Grace, Jessie Fairies and Betty Howell.

D. A. V. Picnic Scores Pleasant Success In Anaheim Park

Gratifying success attended the plans of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, for a picnic for members of the chapter and its auxiliary, and fully 300 guests assembled last night in Anaheim City park to enjoy the hospitality. Of this group no one had a better time than the children of whom there were at least half a hundred to enjoy romps over the grassy picnic grounds, and the varied beauties of the park.

Supper Plans
Earl B. Hawks, commander of the chapter, was in charge of general arrangements, and he relieved women of the auxiliary of all responsibility in preparing the picnic supper by arranging with Mr. and Mrs. Perry L. Cooper to prepare the entire menu, thus making it a care-free and festive occasion for everyone present. Frank D. Corey made all necessary arrangements at the park, so a large section beneath the spreading trees was reserved for the merry group.

Jules Markel had been entrusted with the friendly responsibility of inviting special guests among those who had assisted the chapter in different ways, and places of honor were reserved at the tables for this group, which included Mayor and Mrs. Paul Witmer, Mr. and Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams, Councilman and Mrs. E. G. Warner. The veterans regretted that there were some of these special guests unable to be present, including Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, and a few others.

From Other Chapters
Other honor guests included a delegation from Long Beach Chapter No. 17, headed by Major George Christensen; Mrs. Hazel Chittenden, commander of Jack Fisher auxiliary, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon M. Brown, representing Los Angeles chapter No. 5. Mrs. Brown is the newly elected commander of the Los Angeles auxiliary, and Mr. Brown is state deputy chief of staff on membership.

Following the pleasant dinner hour was an entertainment program planned by Albert H. Jones of the host group. This was highly enjoyable to all those present, and one act, featuring "Goofy" was especially appreciated by the many children, who became hilarious over "Goofy's" antics. Other equally entertaining numbers were given by the Orange County Kill-Willies under the management of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Babcock.

Future Picnic Plan
Pleased by the success of last night's hospitality, and appreciating the expressions of pleasure of everyone in the chapter and its auxiliary, the hosts are planning a similar social event for late in August, with an all fresco supper to be served in one of the other pleasant parks of Orange county, perhaps Hewes park. Place and date will be announced later.

Birthday Function in Halsell Residence Surprise to Host

A surprise birthday party complementing C. W. Halsell took place in the Halsell residence on Fairhaven street, Orange, last night when Mrs. Halsell received a number of nieces and nephews of her husband at a dinner preceding an evening of bridge.

Mrs. Halsell had decorated her home charmingly for the occasion, the flowers thus employed likewise being used to comprise a centerpiece for the dinner table, where was served with the final course a handsomely ornamented birthday cake.

Cards occupied the guests after the repast, those participating in the birthday surprise being Messrs. and Mesdames Will Obarr and daughter, Dorothy; and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Halsell and daughter, Constance and Charlotte, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Obarr and the hostess's brother, A. L. Baker, of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Obarr of Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Obarr and daughter, Helene Mae; Mrs. H. J. Beggs and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Obarr, all of Long Beach, besides the hostess, Mrs. C. W. Halsell, and Mr. Halsell, host and guest of honor.

Bridgettes Join With Bride in Honoring Mrs. Ludlow

Responding to an invitation issued by Mrs. Clyde Higgins, Bridgettes club members met in her home at 191 Lester drive, Orange, Tuesday night, for an evening of bridge arranged in compliment to Mrs. Higgins' mother, Mrs. G. F. Ludlow of Santa Ana.

The evening proved doubly enjoyable by reason of the opportunity afforded guests of inspecting the new home of Mrs. Higgins, who before her marriage on June 1 was Beryl Ludlow of this city. Both the new home and its furnishings were examined with the keenest interest by Mrs. Higgins' guests in the course of an evening devoted largely to bridge.

David Ross of Los Angeles, and his sister, Miss Sara Ross, were calling on Santa Ana relatives and friends yesterday, returning from a short visit in San Juan Capistrano with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. David E. Ross. They were accompanied by the Mission village by their grandmother, Mrs. Mary M. Cooper, 1017 West Third street, who will remain for a week's visit in the Ross home.

Miss Ross is leaving at the end of the week for Berkeley.

Mrs. G. W. Mullis of 842 Riverdale avenue, is entertaining her niece, Mrs. Beulah May Caldwell of Ada, Okla., who is spending a few weeks with Southern California relatives. Today Mrs. Mullis and her daughter, William A. Latham, were taking their guest on a tour of Orange county beach resorts.

Torosa Rebekah Women Plan New Term

Torosa Rebekah lodge activities for the ensuing six months were outlined by women of this organization at a meeting held last evening in the I. O. O. F. hall. Initiation plans likewise were discussed, although no date was named for this ceremony.

Lodge members enjoyed a novel form of entertainment following their meeting, a "kitchen band" from Calumet auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans playing a number of offerings on "instruments" selected from kitchen equipment. Mrs. May Glaze captained the amateur orchestra.

In the banquet room after the program refreshments were served by Mrs. Ora Summers, chairman, and a corps of assistants. Mrs. Grace Moraville headed the program committee last night.

Horton Grounds Lend Setting for Flag Dedication

Dedication of a handsome American flag to the Girl Scouts of the city, with members of the American Legion auxiliary making the presentation, climaxed an evening of profitable entertainment under Girl Scout supervision last night on the grounds of the J. C. Horton home, 702 South Broadway.

Gift of Flag
An interested group of friends of the young people had gathered for the ceremony, which was climaxed by the presentation of the flag by Miss Julia Magill. She and Mrs. Mary Crissman, of the auxiliary and Mother's club, entered together, walking down the aisle formed by the drill team of the organization. Girl Scouts stood in effective horseshoe formation while Miss Magill made the presentation of the flag, which had been brought in by the standard bearer. After all had participated in the pledge of allegiance, Mrs. Crissman gave the flag prayer of the auxiliary.

After the welcome gift from the auxiliary were Miss Frances Was, president of the Girl Scouts; Miss Roberta Horton, vice president and Miss Barbara Rowland, secretary. Miss Was made the acceptance speech, after which Miss Irene Noble stepped from the formation of the horseshoe to play "The Beautiful Drummer."

All other details of the program had been arranged by the Girl Scouts themselves. In greeting guests early in the evening, they escorted them through their headquarters on the Horton grounds, giving interested friends an opportunity to see the rooms as they have beautified them in the past several weeks. New curtains and other accessories have been added by the girls.

Vivid Decorations
The grounds of the home were made especially attractive for the occasion by the use of many colorful Japanese lanterns, festooned with tinsel and tulle, and other decorations. The program was opened when Irene Noble, troop bugler, blew assembly. Dorothy Tedford led the girls in repeating the Scout promise and laws.

A demonstration of the Woodcraft sign was led by Agnes McDaniel, with Helen Juden, Alice McKee, Irene Noble, Margaret Rutan and Marguerite McCarthy taking part. Miss McDougal gave a history of woodcraft and its use by the Indians.

Under the leadership of Jean McKelty, girls gave a demonstration of knot tying. Those taking part were Jean Russick, Josephine Butler, Jane Nalle, Ida Bergetter, Ruth Mathews and Lucille Griggs.

Following this the Scouts put on a skit under the direction of Charlotte Mock. Taking part with her were Mildred Kemper, Barbara Rowland and Irene Hooven. Irene Noble played a bugle solo, "America, the Beautiful," preceding the formal presentation of the flag.

At Refreshment Hour
Concluding the affair and the hospitality of the Horton home, of which the girls are so appreciative, refreshments of punch and cookies were served. The Scouts had made the cookies, some of which were decorated with the scout sign. Roberta Horton, Irene Noble and Jean Russick, dressed in Scout uniforms, served.

As a final demonstration of Scout procedure, the girls joined in singing taps as Miss Noble played accompaniment on the bugle.

Those in charge of the affair were Frances Was, Jean McCaulay and Ruth Jane Mathews, general chairmen; Irene Hooven, refreshments; Jean McCloy, Agnes McDougal and Roberta Horton, invitations.

The Scouts and their advisor, Mrs. R. R. Russick, joined today in attributing much of the success of the dedication services to members of the Horton family, who were so generous in their hospitality.

Ro-Ki-Li Plans
At the close of the program, Mrs. Russick announced that Camp Ro-Ki-Li is to be open to girls of the county from August 15 to 20 at an expense of $5 each girl for the entire period, including transportation. There must be at least 25 girls from this city sign to attend, Mrs. Russick stated.

Those wishing to attend should communicate with her at once. Girl Scouts and other girls interested are urged to make plans to take part in the camp life, which will be conducted under Scout regulations although those attending do not have to belong to the organization.

Martha Washingtons Picnic at Irvine Park

Martha Washingtons held an enjoyable picnic yesterday in Irvine park, meeting first at the home of Mrs. Pauline Decker, South Main street, and continuing in a group to their destination. The outdoor menu was served at noon.

Those in the group were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Curtis, Mrs. Pauline Decker, Mrs. George Peters, Mrs. C. E. Jasper, Mrs. Stella Henderson, Mrs. Sam Johnson, Mrs. Mamie Zimmerman and Mrs. Inez Baker.

Wednesday, August 10, the club members expect to have a fish dinner at Huntington Beach.

LAMB CHOPS AND LIVER
HARRISBURG, Pa.—Six months of prison diet proved too much for a man who was placed on a strict diet of lamb chops and liver. Consequently, Petty Pollard, of Atlantic City, is back home after serving about three months of a six-month jail sentence. Two years ago Pollard received 13 intestinal wounds, and was placed on the lamb chops and liver diet. Testimony to this effect, and to the fact that his wife and child are destitute, brought about Pollard's freedom.

D. U. V. Leader Feted At Birthday Affair After Meeting

A birthday party honoring Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt, president of the Sarah A. Rounds tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, followed a meeting of that organization Tuesday afternoon in the Pythian hall, when members remained after adjournment at the invitation of Mrs. Geraldine Beall, who had supervised plans for the compliment.

On being ushered into the dining room Mrs. Hewitt discovered tables appointed in pink and white and set with lighted candles. A large umbrella fashioned of pink and white crepe paper was centrally placed, while a candle-lit birthday cake in the same colors, was placed before the honoree. To a poem, read in her honor, Mrs. Hewitt responded gracefully. Material evidence of the tent's gratitude for its leader's services was apparent in a prettily decorated box filled with handkerchiefs and birthday cards, likewise presented her.

Several piano selections were played by Duncan Harnois, while assisting in serving capities were Mrs. Beall's daughter, Mrs. Deane Smiley, Miss Charlotte Harnois, David Beall, Jean Estelle McBurney and her cousin, Lorna Taylor of Parsons, Kans.

Plans for a reception for department officials and for department officers of the Sons of Veterans, to be held August 26, were outlined during the tent meeting. An anniversary party, set for August 9, also was planned. Past presidents of the tent will entertain on this occasion. A practice session will be held at the hall at 9 o'clock that same day. A telegram of greetings was sent to Mary E. Gabler tent of Huntington Park which is entertaining national and department officers.

Reports made indicated that 20 bouquets of flowers and 20 funeral sprays had been sent; $15 expended for patriotic work, and 123 calls made.

Present for the birthday affair were Mesdames Lena G. Hewitt, Geraldine Beall, Pearl Nelson, Florence Dunn, Eva Bell, Edith Moore, Margaret Church, Olive Baird, Jessie Overton, Florence Perry, Lula Davis, Beth Gardner, Minnie McClure, Rowena Groat, Mae Thomas, Beren Baker, Kate Rinshead, Belle McConnell, Eliza both Adams, Harriet Mitchell, Ida Mae Clem, Maude Hendrie, Fannie Nau, Emma Cryer, Helen McPhee, Gladys Ward, Cora Graham, the Misses Carrie Seaton, Emma Belt and Minnie Cowan.

Church Societies

C. E. Beach Frolic
Of the several affairs planned for the entertainment of the Senior Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the United Brethren church by the social committee of that organization, the beach party of this past week end, held at Corona del Mar, was voted the most successful to date.

Following a dip in the surf the swimmers headed for a bonfire, about which they sat while wieners and other refreshments were passed. Various beach games later were enjoyed, this program being directed by Miss Evelyn Denie. Before the party disbanded a devotional service on "Christian Love" was led by Miss Mabel Harrison.

Attending the outing were Mabel Harrison, Eliza and Esta Walker, June Morgan, Evelyn Denie, Marjorie Van Horn, Elizabeth Stafford, Royal Gammell, Keith Noble, William Curmott and Mrs. P. Gammell. Guests were the Rev. T. W. Ringland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ringland, Frederick Davis, Louis and George Butson, Cecil Smith, Forester Cravens, Harold Obison and Joseph Hensley.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE by Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Cherry Dixon, pretty 19-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, falls in love with Dan Phillips, newspaper reporter. She quarrels with her father about Dan and then, taking advantage of Leap Year, asks Dan to marry her. They are married and move into a cheap apartment. Cherry's struggles with housework are discouraging. Dixie Shannon, movie critic of the News, is friendly with Cherry. She meets handsome Max Pearson, also of the News. After several weeks Cherry's mother becomes seriously ill. The girl is called home and there is a reconciliation with her parents but pride will not allow her to accept financial aid from them. When Mrs. Dixon is stronger she and her husband leave for several months at the seashore.

Cherry and Dan are invited to a swimming party at a nearby resort. Dan is delayed and Cherry starts with Pearson. A storm overtakes them and while they are waiting for it to pass he tells her he loves her. They finally reach home but after that Cherry avoids Pearson.

Brenda Vail, magazine writer, comes to Wellington. Dan meets her and she asks him to collaborate with her on a play. Dan spends most of his evenings at Miss Vail's apartment working on the play. Cherry dislikes Brenda. She begs off from a dinner invitation, telling Dan to go without her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
Cherry stood looking out at the wet street. The rain had begun early in the morning, a steady down-pour that threatened to continue throughout the night. It had rained every day of the week so far. October apparently was trying to masquerade as April but the wind was colder and the days were growing shorter. Now at 5:30 dusk was gathering and in half an hour the street would be in darkness.

A slight noise attracted the girl's attention. Cherry's exclamation was only half a yawn. Pinky, the kitten, had pushed the basket of socks and darning supplies to the edge of the window seat. It had fallen and the frightened kitten was in the midst of the deluge.

"Pinky!" the girl scolded. "I told you to leave those spools alone! Aren't you ashamed?"

The sentence went unfinished. There was a knock at the door and Cherry hurried to open it.

Dixie Shannon stood in the hallway in dripping raincoat, galoshes and limp felt hat. "Look at me!" she moaned. "My permanent's ruined! I had it put in only a week ago. Did you ever see such a sight? I couldn't get a taxi and I had to wait hours for a car. I'm simply soaking!"

"You certainly are!" Cherry agreed. "Come in and get that wet coat off."

Dixie struggled with the clumsy galoshes. "Might as well have left these at home," she grumbled. "Holes in both heels. Oh—what a day this has been! What a day!"

Cherry took the wet raincoat and spread it over a chair. Raindrops trickled in a little stream from Dixie's hat. The brown hair that had been waved "permanently" a week before was indeed a sorry sight. At one side of her face it hung down longer than the other and was almost straight. The part that had been protected from the moisture frizzed outlandishly.

Dixie caught a glimpse of herself in the mirror and squealed in dismay. "What'll I do?" she exclaimed. "I look like a Hottentot!"

"Better get into dry clothes," Cherry suggested. "I'll see if I can set that wave for you if you want me to."

"You lamb! Will you really?" "Yes, but you'll have to take a hot bath first and put on something warm. Otherwise you'll have pneumonia!"

Dixie reached for her coat and hat. "I'll be right back," she promised. Almost at the door she stopped. "But I forgot—Dan will be coming—"

"He's having dinner down town tonight," Cherry told her. "Sit!"

One of the most unique examples of humorous music to be found in orchestral literature, Richard Strauss' tone poem, "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks," based on German folk tales of the fifteenth century; Chabrier's gay and fascinating "Espana Rhapsody" and Saint-Saens' "Henry VIII" ballet music complete the program. LEAP YEAR BRIDE worth while than cooking a meal like this?"

Cherry shrugged, but her smile was wistful.

"How's Dan's play coming?" the other girl asked.

"It's been finished and now they're writing the second act over again. It seems to take an awful long time to write a play. I had no idea it was so much work."

Dixie glanced up and the lids of her eyes narrowed. "What do you think of this Brenda Vail?" she asked. "Do you like her?"

Cherry hesitated. "Dan says she's awfully clever," she said slowly.

"Yes, of course, but what do you think of her?"

"I don't think I know her well enough to say. I've only met her a few times."

"Dan sees her rather often, doesn't he?"

"Why, of course. They've been working together for weeks."

"She's—rather unusual looking, don't you think?" Dixie persisted.

"Not pretty exactly but the type a lot of men fall for. That red hair and the way she dresses. I've only seen her at a distance but I've heard them talking about her at the office. There aren't many wives who would be willing to let their husbands spend evening after evening with a vamp like that."

"Dixie, you don't mean to suggest—"

"Heavens forbid! I don't mean to suggest a thing in the world. Of course I know Dan isn't the sort to play around with anyone else—even if it were harmless. I wouldn't say a thing like that for the world!"

The denial was a shade too vehement, and Dixie's smile a trifle forced but Cherry did not seem to notice this. She looked across at the other girl. Cherry's face had suddenly become serious.

"If anybody would dare to say things like that I hope you'll tell them it's not true," she said earnestly. "Dan wouldn't—he couldn't do anything except play fair. He knows I understand about Miss Vail. Dan admires her because of her ability and of course he's grateful for all the help she's given him."

"Of course, I am! I know that's all there is to it. Nobody's been talking about your Dan and I was a dumbbell to suggest it. Matter of fact, I only meant Dan's exceptional because he is so level-headed. There now—is everything all right?"

They talked of other subjects. Cherry brought the dessert and poured the coffee. Afterward they washed and wiped the dishes together and put the room to rights. Then Dixie sat before the mirror while Cherry dampened the frizzled, unruly hair and combed it painstakingly into neat waves. It was almost an hour's work but when it was finished Dixie was enthusiastic.

"It looks better than when they set it at the shop!" she insisted. "Honestly, I don't know how I can thank you—"

"There's nothing to thank me for," Cherry told her. "I didn't have anything else to do and it's been fun."

A little later Dixie departed. In her own apartment she hung away the raincoat that was dry now and tucked the galoshes out of sight. Dixie stood before the mirror for a moment inspecting her carefully waved locks. She was thinking of the girl down stairs.

"There's no use to tell her," Dixie informed the image in the looking glass. "It's better for her not to know but just the same it's a dirty shame! I'd like to tell Dan Phillips what I think of him!"

It was evident from the black looks directed at the girl in the mirror that these remarks would not be complimentary. With a sigh Dixie turned away to pick up the mystery story she had begun the night before.

The way in which the good-looking amateur detective tracked down the perpetrator of the series of horrifying crimes was fascinating reading. Dixie did not put the book down until she had finished the last chapter. The hands of the tiny ivory alarm clock on the bedside table pointed to 20 minutes after 12. Dixie tossed the book aside then and switched out the rose-shaded light.

At the same time in the second floor apartment Dan Phillips yawned and discarded his vest.

"Say, Cherry," he asked, "what's become of that yarn I wrote about the taxicab driver? The one I called 'Night Life'? Remember? I'd like to take it around for Brenda to have a look at."

Cherry's back was toward him. She did not turn as he answered. There was a pause, almost imperceptible, and then she said, "I'm sorry, Dan, but I destroyed it. I didn't mean to. It got in with some other papers and I didn't know until it was gone."

The words were a deliberate falsehood. But of course Dan would never learn the truth!

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

For Mustaches, or Otherwise

In one of my old books there is a perfect mine of information and entertainment. In that day the men evidently had their worries about scraggly whiskers and mustaches, and a page is devoted to the poor dears and their facial problems.

One formula is given for "forcing whiskers or mustaches to grow" that would be just as good today, but not for said appendages, for our own hair, I mean.

3 ounces cologne

1 drachm liquid hartshorn

2 drachm tincture of cantharides

12 drops each of oil of rosemary, oil of lavender and oil of nutmeg.

"Hartshorn" is known today as ammonia. For cologne one might substitute bay rum without changing the value of the tonic. Cantharides stimulates by the mild heating effect it has on the skin. For that reason it is advisable not to use this formula on eye lashes, but it can be used on the eyebrows and rubbed into the scalp with good results.

TODAY'S RECIPE

My French Dressing

2 cups salad oil

1/2 cup vinegar (Tarragon flavored)

Juice of 4 lemons

1 dessertspoonful salt

Same of sugar

1 tablespoon prepared mustard

1 dessertspoon A1 sauce

1 dessertspoon Worcestershire.

2 teaspoons paprika

1-3 teaspoon cayenne

1/4 cup finely chopped parsley

3 tablespoons minced chives

1 large sprig fresh basil

2 cloves garlic, crushed but not minced.

Everything but the kitchen stove goes into this really marvelous dressing. I make it in quantity, for the longer it stands the better it gets. It dresses simple salads to perfection and for a quick relish take squares of any roasted meat, arrange them on a serving dish and cover with some of this dressing. Chill for an hour before serving so that the meat will absorb the flavors.

SOMETHING ABOUT HERB SEASONINGS

Basil: Chives: Tarragon: All names to conjure with in the making of delicious foods and the possible for the woman who does things with care. Basil may be bought in markets or grown in your own herb garden. Chives likewise. They are a species of onion, used for the flavor of the lance-like tops. Tarragon is another easily grown herb, but one that may be bought dry and immersed in vinegar to make the spiced tarragon vinegar for which you pay 50 cents per bottle. (Minced green onion and tops will do if chives are not available, and basil can be bought prepared).

Making this dressing is a joke. Just put everything into a quart fruit jar, mincing the herbs very fine (cut them with a scissors have them fine enough) adjust the top securely and shake vigorously to mix. Don't forget to include the two cloves of crushed garlic, will you?

Shake the bottle well each time before using and don't let the garlic loose to shock a guest.

A big tablespoonful of this French dressing has 75 fat and energy-making calories.

A salmon salad dressed with My French Dressing isn't to be 'high-tailed by even a costly lobster salad. Clip and save this recipe to use with some of the salmon recipes you'll find in the current leaflet, SWEET AND SOUR SALMON.

The leaflet is free this week if you'll send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing.

Friday's recipe will be Cantaloupes Fritters.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tinties didn't seem to care that they were perched high in the air. Their floating bit of canvas landed on the chimney top.

Said Scouty, "Well, we're through with this and, so far, nothing's gone amiss. Let's get loose from the canvas and then let the big thing drop."

The breeze had died down quite a bit and it was not so hard to sit around the chimney edge until the canvas was thrown out.

They watched it slowly float away and then the bunch heard Duncy say, "We'll have to get down off of here. For help I guess I'll shout."

He put his hands up to his face and shouted all around the place. No answer came, however, and then Duncy said, "I quit!"

"Why yell when no one's hearing me? There's not a soul that I can see. There's no way to get down, so I guess we'll have to sit."

"Oh, wait a minute," Windy said. "Why don't you ever use your head? This chimney has an inside. Maybe we can crawl down that."

"If we go slowly, brick by brick, and step by step, we'll turn the trick. I warn you to be careful, or will slip and fall down flat."

"All right, you lead," said Copy. "We will follow you quite cautiously. Now don't step on each other's hands. That wouldn't feel so good."

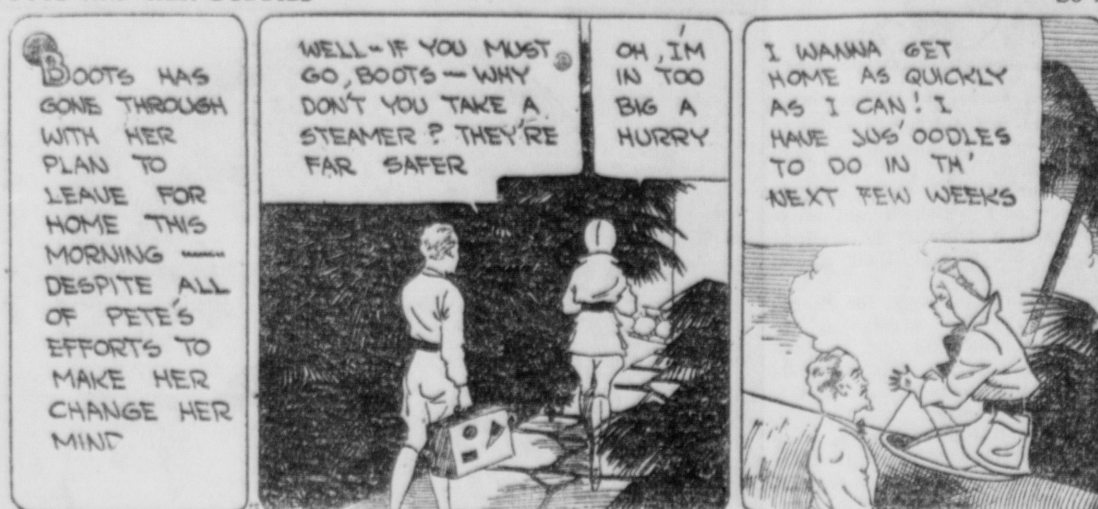

So Windy started down the shaft and very shortly Scouty laughed. Said he, "This will be easy. If we all do as we should."

The trip, of course, was very slow. Soon little Copy said, "I know that we are near the bottom 'cause I see a bit of light."

And then they reached a turn-of-the-door. Cried one, "Ah! Open air once more!" Then Duncy said, "We're smeared with soot and we all look a sight."

(The Tinties meet a funny man in the next story.)

Boners are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

The five senses of men are sight, hear, smell, touch and fright.

A croupier is someone who has the croup.

Pennyweight is the unit of money in England.

To be a successful salesman one does not need to be born.

CONDITIONS HAVE CHANGED

The Register has had some criticism for the editorial which it carried on the recent and proposed expenditure this coming year for the Ortega highway, and more particularly an editorial, which it carried on the opening of this highway over three years ago, is brought in contrast with the recent editorial.

Three years ago our county and nation were in a very prosperous condition. Money was plentiful, and we were able and did undertake to carry on many enterprises, both privately and publicly, which we cannot do now, and many of which in private life we have had to suspend during these times. We were enthusiastic then for the road, although we said at that time: "To be sure, the immediate animating motive of man in the building of roads usually is that of trade and gain and commercial relationship. And it must be so, or at least gain must be possible in order to justify large expenditures of money."

It may be possible that the gain to San Juan Capistrano, Laguna Beach and San Clemente would justify, in the long run, this expenditure of money. The total interest, however, on this expenditure at six per cent, would be nearly $40,000 a year. The only thing that we were attempting to urge was the suspension of expenditure until business conditions change.

The Register is as anxious to see all sections of Orange county developed as any institution in Orange county, and in prosperous times when taxpayers have any excess, we are going to boost and boom in harmony with the rest. There is a difference of opinion. The Register has presented its view.

It does desire to correct a statement which it made in its editorial, and that is that the amount of expenditure this coming year is made for paving. This is a mistake. The expenditure is for grading, realigning points on the highway and the installation of two bridges on the road between San Juan Capistrano and San Juan Hot Springs.

There are many enterprises which have been started which people have been unable just at this period to carry on. We believe that necessities, such as the needs of the unemployed, should be paramount. It is very possible that these necessities could be taken care of and still this enterprise carried on. But we cannot forget that right in the midst of the winter these hundreds of men were thrown out on the streets in this county with the declaration that the "county was broke," and yet it seems that for every other purpose desired money is available.

PRESIDENT HOOVER REMAINS IN WASHINGTON

The telegraph wires will carry the story today concerning President Hoover's failure to come to the Olympic Games to open them. It is suggested that he is being criticised by foreigners for this, in view of the fact that the rulers of other nations have been present at the opening of the Olympics in their particular country.

While we would have liked to have seen the President of our country come out to California at the opening of this great international athletic fête, yet we believe that he is amply justified in these crucial days in remaining at his post, and looking after the more pressing affairs of state.

In some of these countries the King or titular ruler is there, but in most of them the so-called "ruler" is nothing but a social functionary, who is placed in position for just such occasions as these. There is a vast deal of difference for example, between a King in most countries and our Chief Executive. The Premier of the country more completely, in some of these kingdoms, corresponds to our Chief Executive.

The President of France and the King of Great Britain can open such functions as the Olympics without the affairs of state suffering in the least degree. But President Hoover's office is 2500 miles from Los Angeles. He is sending the Vice-President here to represent him. He can be heard over a radio hook-up as if he were in the city of Los Angeles itself.

There is certainly no disrespect shown other nations.

President Hoover's heart and sympathy are with all of the contestants here on the Pacific coast. If he had come, his critics would have charged him with simply "playing politics," and under all the circumstances, if he had done it, it probably would have been true. We believe he should be commended rather than criticised.

LIMITATIONS ON EXPENDITURES

We would like to commend the tax committee's report of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in some respects.

They declare that no tax money should be used for other than distinctly governmental agencies. One of the chief methods of increasing government expenditures is through various organizations impressing their friends into service to make appeals on their behalf, to get tax money out of the treasury into the hands of the private group.

There are a dozen and one organizations for which this is done, and the sum of all these amounts runs into considerable proportions. Not only is this a big item of expense in itself, but it breaks down the morale of officials in endeavoring to protect the treasury against the raids of individual citizens, and causes them to increase expenditures in many other directions.

There is the constant tendency for each to feel that this particular cause or particular expenditure is an exception to the general rule, but there are always a few people who can be engaged to aid in an appeal for any particular expenditure. It gives the impression to those officials who have the power of determining the matter, that there are a large number of people making such demand, whereas as a matter of fact, there is but a very small group that asks for any such expenditure.

If the rule is established, such as is recommended there, and such as some of our city councilmen are endeavoring to carry out, namely, no money to be spent for other than governmental agencies, it makes it much easier to save money for the taxpayer, and to have money for the legitimate purposes of government, when needed.

A REFLECTION

A noted fat comedian, who was tried for murder in San Francisco some years ago, and since which time he has been barred from the movies, though at one time Will Hays tried to get him back on, has just been signed up to reappear.

We wonder if the movie organizations are looking out properly for their own reputation, and placing themselves in a position where they deserve the confidence and support of the public. We remember very vividly the episode around which the evidence in that trial revolved, and we believe it did more to undermine public confidence in the movies and in the people connected with them than any event connected with any of filmdom's history.

To reinstate him would suggest either that the public has a short memory, or that the public's taste has lowered down to the point where they will receive this with gladness.

The Humor of Hamlet

The Christian Science Monitor

It would seem pretty difficult at this time of day to discover anything new about Hamlet. Even when a few ago, Sir Barry Jackson made what was thought to be a bold innovation by playing "Hamlet" in modern dress, he was only reviving the common custom of Garrick's days. But Moscow has applied the touchstone of its Marxian philosophy to Shakespeare's drama with pleasingly original results.

The Russian Soviet capital has discovered something about "Hamlet" which the commentators who thought that Hamlet was mad, and the commentators who thought that Hamlet was the sanest man who ever lived, and even the commentators who thought that Hamlet was a woman, never dreamed of. In Moscow it has been found out that "Hamlet" is a comedy.

The Moscow production, arranged by the well-known composer, Dmitri Shostakovich, is said by one critic to be "calculated to evoke repeated gusts of laughter." This unique effect is gained by the ingenious device of playing the piece in almost exactly the opposite way to which Shakespeare wrote it.

Shakespeare's Hamlet is a hesitating, doubting character, continually held back from the commission of what he conceives to be his duty by scruples of conscience and the make-up of his individuality. But this sort of character does not fit in at all with the Marxian philosophy, which regards all men as acting all the time only in accordance with their economic interests.

Any man in Hamlet's position, according to this theory, would have made a bee line for the Danish throne. And so Mr. Shostakovich represents him, a virile, determined, active young fellow, with his eye firmly fixed on the royal revels.

One would have expected that this reconciliation of "Hamlet" with the Marxian philosophy would have gained great honor for its producer. But alas, the way of the pioneer is hard. Instead of being congratulated on all sides, Mr. Shostakovich has met with keen criticism because his production has not revealed the conflict between feudalism and capitalism which Moscow finds to be the dominating note of the Shakespearean drama.

Not All Follies

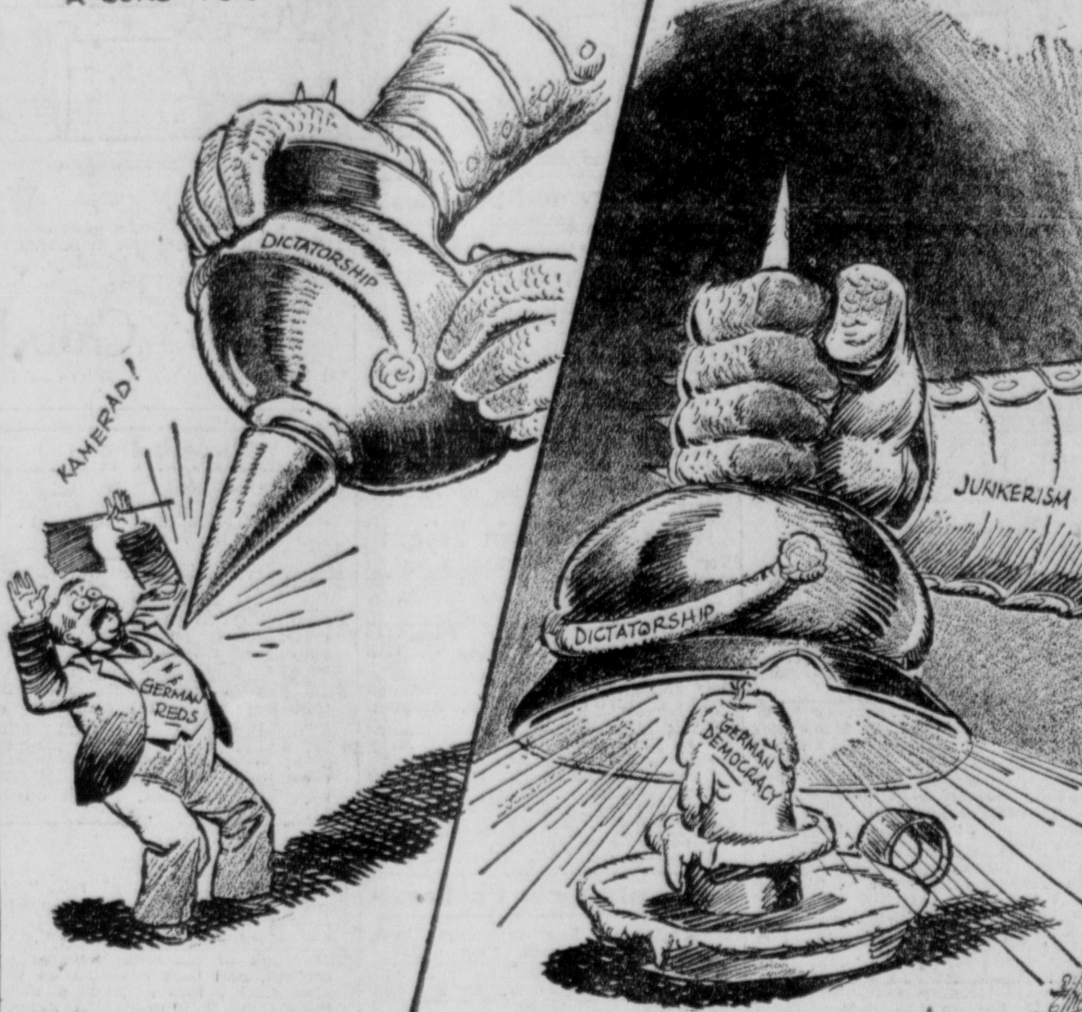

The San Diego Union

Four street cars in Scranton, Pennsylvania, are painted in dark ivory with blue trim, and bear the legend, "Designed by Florenz Ziegfeld." Today, as Ziegfeld, the great showman, lies dead, those cars and their inscription contribute something important and enlightening to the epitaphs that will be written for him. Ziegfeld won fame for his "glorification" of the American girl—an achievement in elaborate and extravagant showmanship—but there was a deep, admirable urge in the man, not completely expressed by any parade of bare-legged beauties on a dazzling stage, and those four street cars in Scranton give an insight to it. He believed that there was place in ordinary living for color, clean design, liveliness and amusing decor—and when challenged to prove it on the Scranton street cars, he accepted the challenge.

Perhaps every great showman contributes something to the every-day life that so often strives to reflect the art of the stage.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

POETRY FOR THE PEOPLE

Start the day with a smile; when you walk down the street
Determined to struggle and win,
Bestow on the first pretty girl that you meet
A beaming and jovial grin.
She may become frightened and call the police
Who will take you to jail for a while;
But you'll know as you calmly await your release,
That you started the day with a smile.

Start the day with a smile, if a friend on the car
Who's been playing the bucket shop joints,
Informs you he purchased some stock around par
Which has dropped about seventy points—
Let your features reveal an expression of glee
Although his appeared worried and blue,
For it always is wise to let other men see
That their troubles mean nothing to you.

Start the day with a smile; if you're late to your work
And the boss steps around to complain,
Declare with a carefree and nonchalant smirk
That you never can catch that darn train.
This may not produce the result you desired,
Your mirth may be misunderstood—
But you'll thrill by remembering, after you're fired,
That you smiled while the smiling was good.

Start the day with a smile; though your friends may suspect
That you're crazy, and dimly dwell
On the nerve racking, brain sapping, deadly effect
Of the liquor these bootleggers sell,
And bid you beware of the horrible stuff
And try to keep sober, a while,
For you it will always be comfort enough
That you started the day with a smile.

Me and pop was in the living room waiting for Nora to ring the dinner bell for supper, and ma came up, saying, "What a girl, really sometimes I think she has even less sense than I thawt she had. Can you imagine her putting my bran new beautiful cloth on the table when she knew distinctly that I wanted it for tomorrow when the Hewses are coming for dinner, she said."

O well, it awt to last till tomorrow, pop said, and ma said, "Not with a man and a boy in the house, from what I know from bitter experience about the relationship between tablecloths and the male members of families, particularly boys."

Meaning me and pop, especially me, and pop said, "You do me a grate injustice, it takes some mitey upheaval of nature, such as an earthquake, to get me to make a stance on a tablecloth. In fact in my youth I use to be known as Spotless Bill the friend of tablecloths, so calm your idle fears, my deer, you have no cause for alarm on my account, he said."

On mine neither, ma, I said. G wizzickers, I bet I haven't spilt anything on a tablecloth for at least a week, pretty near, that's how careful I've been being, I said.

O yes, it makes a grand story for anybody in blissful ignorance of the true facts, ma said. Anyway it's too late now for vain regrets or empty promises, because I just upset a vase of water all over it while I was arranging the flowers, and if anybody says water duzzent stance, they must of passed their life in a fool's paradise. And what's all the silly laffing about? If somebody will kindly condescend to tell me what's so funny I'm sure I'll be delighted to join in, she said.

Which me and pop both told her, only she didn't think it was funny, making it seem all the funnier to me and pop.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

NOW IS THE TIME TO INVEST!

This article is directed to a more limited audience than that to which most of these articles are addressed.

This article is directed to the attention of all Americans who have some surplus cash on hand. And its argument is that now is the time to invest in property and goods.

Why do I say this? Is this just another "booster talk" to induce people to buy? No! Emphatically, No!

My readers can go back over the files of these articles from the Black October of 1929 until today without finding a single sentimental appeal to buy stocks, bonds, or goods in a period when it was not good personal judgment to buy.

I suggest that the time has come to invest in property and goods for a very practical reason.

Prices have everywhere dropped to an unprecedentedly low level.

The inventories of factories and stores are everywhere down to unprecedentedly low levels. The personal inventories of individual Americans are everywhere down to unprecedentedly low levels.

These low inventories both of the producers and of the consumers mean that we are rapidly approaching the point at which fresh activity in manufacturing will be imperative.

This fact is bound to give us before long an upturn in the economic curve.

And when that upturn comes prices will rise.

It is the part of good business sense for all Americans who have cash in hand to begin investing in property and goods now while the present low prices prevail.

Not again for some time to come will they be able to get as much for their money.

If this fact could be burned into the minds of all those who control the actual cash reserves of the country, the end of the depression would be in sight.

Donald had been hard at work all day building a dam across the little stream that raced down the hill and through the garden. He had set his stones with care and and banked them with sod, pounding and pushing with all the strength of his little body. A few minutes before it was time to stop for the day it began to rain. Donald worked harder than ever. Feverishly he added stones and sod and more stones against what he knew would be a rising rush of water that would tear away his dam and make his day's work useless.

"Don, don't you see it's raining?"

"Yes, mother, I can't stop. If I do the dam will go out. Will you bring out my boots and raincoat please? I gotta make the dam hold."

He wiped his damp face with his crooked arm and looked beseechingly at his mother.

She thought for an instant.

"Leave him here in the rain and the wet. Such a little boy. How like his father he looked when he asked for his things and said he must hold his dam. I'll help him hold it."

She was back in a flash with rubber boots, raincoat and hat.

"There you are, Mr. Engineer. Go to it. Hope you can strengthen her so she won't go out in the flood. Want a hand?"

"No, I think I can manage. She's on a good foundation. I only have to strengthen her here. I'll be in before long, mother. I'll take a hot bath and change my clothes as soon as I get in."

And the tone and the look of his father. Mother turned away and went into the house praying for the success of that construction.

Success in any situation means take hold, hold on. Hold on long after everybody else has let go. That holds for mothers as well as children. Hold fast to what you believe to be good and help the children hold to their good, and success must come, and with it happiness.
